RAKING O. P. AGAIN

Capitol Political Conditions Reflected by Ob-

THE LIMA NEWS BUREAU
Columbus, August 7.

Columbus (Special). It still remains true that one often has to travel far away from home to find out what is happening at home. So it is with Ohio. The poor, old state, trying, at its best to get along in normalcy times, nursing its business along, trying to find odd jobs for its unemployed, keeping away the sheriff, and raking to find the money for the new taxes, learns from foreign sources how really well off it is. The medium of information is an interview from its traveling representative, Hon. Harry L. Davis, Governor of Ohio, who has confided to the people of Baltimore, thru the press of that city, "what I have done for Ohio."

Not until he came upon the scene did it have a government worthy of the name, but since then waste has been abolished, there is no overlapping, graft has been expelled, giant savings accomplished and the commonwealth moves forward to new accomplishments. It's a wonderful picture that is painted and if one forgets that dog days are here, all troubles may be forgotten.

Getting back home, there are certain facts which jar, whose noise is too faint in the distance to be heard.
For instance, just across the street from the executive offices, the railways which are being blamed now for all human ills because freight rates are high, have a set of high-priced attorneys at work and they are making things interesting for all and sundry. Finding themselves hooked up against proof that their imposts for carrying road building material are higher than in adjoining states and sensing that a successful attack here will make for attacks in other quarters from coal men and farmers and other shippers, the railways are determined to find fellow victims. Hence they are directing their inquiries to the size of the "promotion expenses" in road building materials. Of course, there have been such things since long ago and it depends upon the character of administration in any given place as to the seriousness of them. Not much of such changes had been heard in Ohio until the last few months and now it is one of the leading themes, talked of where-ever wise men get together.

Strangely enough, this little phase of state government was interrupted by the death of the late Governor Charles F. Smith. The chances are, let us say, that the good man never heard of the matter but it was waiting for him when he got home. The material men who attended the freight rate hearings seem to have heard something about it, for they burst into loud guffaws and hoarse laughs when the matter was mentioned the other day. Still, none can find any reason to fault for many of the highway material men, they are heartily sick of the present state of things and say frankly they wish to get the business to a level of common sense decency. The uproar against high prices is too great for this to continue forever. It is saying something that the highway department has gone into this. What it finds it ought to tell the Governor, so that he can correct it or correct his eastern friends.

There probably will be fewer votes out at the coming primaries on Tuesday than have been out in any year for 14 years, this being the length of time that mandatory primaries have been in vogue in Ohio.
Back in other days people used to get excited about them and felt they were interested in what sort of men they were nominated.
But now no one knows, because each city has its own system and it keeps the voter busy to follow the changes at home, to say nothing of branching out into other cities. Here in Columbus, for instance, the city is to try to get rid of the Mary Ann suesing contest ballot, but no one will stir the voters to interest in them. They "hush" when they have to under it, but the public mind is too lethargic to think of getting excited about changing it. Few of the big cities have any primaries to speak of and they are for councilmen. And with the right to hold

WAR ON PLAGUE TO BE PLANNED

Tuberculosis Conference Opens
At Columbus Sept. 12

COLUMBUS. — The ninth annual session of the Mississippi Valley conference on tuberculosis will meet here September 12, 13 and 14, officially decided Saturday night.
The conference will consider federal provisions for ex-service men afflicted with tuberculosis, promotion of child health thru a system of hygiene teaching in schools, sanitarium treatments, tuberculosis dispensa-ries, open air schools, and general health education.

MANY TO ATTEND
Approximately 1,000 delegates are expected from eleven states, including Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Illinois and Ohio. Volunteer public health organizations, local tuberculosis societies, sanitarium superintendents, health nurses, physicians and lay people interested in fighting tuberculosis are expected to attend.

Dr. Walter McNab Miller, St.
Louis, is the president of the conference; Dr. Eugene B. Pierce, Michigan, vice-president, and Dr. Robert G.
Paterson, Columbus, secretary.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS
The Mississippi Valley Sanitarium Association, representing all tuberculosis sanitariums in the Mississippi valley states, which meets in connection with the conference, will hold one session at the Ohio State Sanitarium at Mt. Vernon.

Important speakers for the conference include Dr. Allen K. Kraus, of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, editor of the American Review of Tuberculosis, Dr. James Alexander Miller, New York, president of the National Tuberculosis Association, and Dr. Haven Emerson, Washington, medical advisor of the bureau of war risk insurance.

RICH BROKER IS MURDERED, WOMAN HELD

Tragedy at Prominent Los Angeles Man's Home
Veiled in Mystery

HEAD BLOWN OFF

Accompanied Only by Former Wife of Noted
Chicago Attorney

LOS ANGELES — Mystery as deep as California criminal annals ever recorded was encountered Saturday by authorities trying to answer the question of who was the person who stepped out of the night, shot John B. Kennedy to death as he was about to enter his Beverly Glen bungalow, with a woman companion, and quickly faded into the shadows.
This is all that is known of the Kennedy murder.

The principals—John Belton Kennedy, wealthy young broker.
Mrs. Madalynn Obenchain, charming divorcee, his companion.
"X" Who killed him.
The place, a lonely stairway up in the hills in front of Kennedy's summer retreat at Beverly Glen.
The time: a few moments after midnight Saturday morning.

Mrs. Obenchain, a tall very beautiful young woman, said to have been madly in love with Kennedy, is held in custody as "a material witness."

Police are convinced, however, that she had nothing to do with the shooting. The back of Kennedy's skull was blown off with a shotgun.
The gun was not to be found near the scene of the murder—of two of them—Mrs. Obenchain, the sobber-shaken girl said Saturday, had retreated to his out-of-town bungal-ow after a day at the beaches.
They had just stepped from his machine at the foot of the hill, she said. Kennedy started to move onward to the stairs.
"I was blinded by flash," she said. "I had buried at the foot of the steps almost a year ago," she said. "I struck a match and a terrible crash was almost simultaneous."
"I was blinded for a moment and dazed."
"Goodnight, Madalynn," I heard Belton whisper. Then dimly I saw him sink. I knew he was dying. At the same time a shadow—of two of them—flitted away in the darkness.
"It was lonely and still and very terrible. I thought I would die before they heard my screams."
"I didn't dare stop screaming for when I was still I could hear a 'tap, tap' on the pavement. I knew it was blood."
Mrs. Obenchain, once a co-ed at Northwestern University, divorced her husband, Ralph Obenchain, prominent Chicago attorney, over a year ago.

ENTERS UPON JOB WITHOUT PREJUDICE

Statements of Mayor and New Cabinet Member are In Conflict

POLICY UNDEFINED

Dorris Takes Office Monday to "Run Things Best Way He Can"

That David W. Dorris, Lima's new safer, intends to enter upon his duties as boss of the police and fire departments Monday without prejudice was stated by Dorris Saturday night.

Moreover, he asserted that he was entering upon official life without his hands being tied. When questioned regarding his future conduct of the two departments, Dorris stated that he had nothing to say, as he has not yet looked over the field and does not know what is there.

SURRENDERS NO POWER
Mayor Burkhardt proclaimed that he would surrender power to no one at the time Dr. A. F. Kniskely volunteered to take the job without pay.

When Dorris was questioned Saturday night as to whether he was to have a free hand in running the department, the new director declared he intended to run things the best way he could and that his hands are not tied.

Earlier in the day Saturday Mayor Burkhardt stated that he had Dorris' name under consideration since Monday or Tuesday.
"I have known Dorris a long time," Burkhardt stated, "and he understands my policies."

In talking over matters with Mayor Burkhardt, prior to his appointment, Dorris declared that conditions in the department were not discussed. There was no decision made as to what course he was to pursue regarding the charges made by the Toledo Automobile club and he had no opinion on the merits of the case.

The resignation of C. M. Henderson, who served the city 17 days and then quit, because of pressure of personal affairs, was accepted officially by Mayor Burkhardt Saturday.
FIVE MONTHS TO SERVE Provided the new director does not follow his predecessor's example he will have a little less than five months to serve. January 1 the present regime in the city hall returns in favor of the city commission, to be elected November 8.

STEAMERS CRASH

Ships Collide in Buffalo Harbor
—No One Injured.

BUFFALO, N. Y. — The excursion steamer Ossian Bodell, loaded with passengers, for Erie Beach, Ont., collided with the steamer City of Buffalo in the harbor here Saturday night.
No passengers on either vessel were injured. A panic was narrowly averted, the crew of the boats calming the passengers.
The City of Buffalo was being towed to its dock after making a daylight trip from Cleveland with many passengers. The Ossian Bodell was pulling away from its dock, loaded with excursionists for the nearby resort.
The boats evidently misunderstood whistle signals as the City of Buffalo continued to be backed into its pier and the excursion boat continued on its way out of the harbor.
Passengers ran for life belts as the two steamers came together.
The forward part of the Ossian Bodell was crushed. The City of Buffalo was slightly damaged but failed to show any serious damage.

DOG UNEARTHS TWENTY GALLONS OF WHISKEY

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. — A
"hooch" hound has been discovered here.
Bernard Staley, employee of a wholesale house, has a red nosed dog which, in the last week, has unearthed twenty gallons of moonshine liquor.
The liquor was turned over to the federal prohibition office. The dog is being watched closely.

Former Cincinnati Nurse Tells How She Chased Kinkead to New York

ENDS IN TRAGEDY

Love Spurned, She Hunts
the Lawyer Down and Kills Him

NEW YORK — The story of how she hunted and hounded Ellis Kinkead, prominent Cincinnati lawyer, was told Saturday by Miss Olivia Stone, who shot and killed him on a street corner in Brooklyn late Friday.

She declared she forced him to resign from the Cincinnati law school, hired detectives to pursue him when he tried to flee from her, that she "showed him up to his friends" lay in wait for him at his office in New York continued the relentless chase for months indefatigable in her determination to confront him, and finally met him face to face near his home in Brooklyn.

"When I saw him crossing the street I approached him and said,
'how do you do, Mr. Ellis Kinkead, you dirty rat!'" she declared.
"Then an awful chill overcame me.
I don't know what I did. I was so excited, I felt as if I could jump from New York to Mexico without any difficulty."

Miss Stone told her story after she had been arraigned in a Brooklyn court on a charge of homicide and held without bail for hearing Tuesday.

"Don't you regret the shooting?"
she was asked. The woman smiled and waved her hand. "Regret it—no. I'm the happiest woman in the world. Ellis Kinkead is now in the place where the dawn comes up like thunder."

Her quotation from "Mandalay" was given in slow accents and cleverly fitted.
Miss Stone broke her silence atter reading all the newspaper accounts of the killing.

First she discussed how she met Kinkead at Cincinnati where she was a graduate nurse and how she accompanied him to Atlantic City where he made love to her.
She told it as she was riling back to jail in the patrol wagon after her arraignment.

GENERAL LEE GETS
WEST INDIES POST

Brig. Gen. Harry Lee of the U. S. marine corps has just been ordered to Santo Domingo to command the second brigade marines. He will relieve Gen. Charles G. Long. The command at Santo Domingo is considered one of the most important in the United States marine corps.
Gen. Lee has served with the marine corps since 1898, when he was appointed a lieutenant for the war with Spain.

REDS REFUSE TO FREE YANKS

Americans Are Still Held Prisoner in Russia

RIGA—Uncertainty still clouded the situation of American prisoners in Russia Saturday night.

A Latvian official returning here from Moscow said that the Americans, whose release was demanded before American aid is sent to Russia, had not been released Thursday,

His report differed from that of Mrs. Marguerite Harrison, released last week. She said on arrival here that the others were to be out of Russia within two days from the

Russia's starving, plague-stricken millions will be driven into other states in Russia by soviet authorities, according to word brought here Saturday by Austrian Communists, returning from the international in Moscow.

"This is not a threat," Austrian leaders told the United Press. "It is a necessity if the Russians are to save themselves."

The Austrians also declared that Russia's difficulties are hastening a change in the nation's economic program.

"The soviets can not be overthrown," the delegates said. "The simple fact is that there is no one able to take their place. The whole country is built on the soviet plan."
"However," they said, "communist ideas are bound to be moderated somewhat. Compromises are to be effected. They might have come anyway but they are unavoidable now. They have been hastened by the famine and the Russian appeal to the outside world."

American's demand for release of her prisoners before aid would be considered, angered the Austrians.
"Conditions are terrible," said one leader. "And yet America holds back and demands guarantees and concessions."

"There is no time for parley.
Thousands are dying hourly and endangering thousands more as the plague spreads."

RAIL CASE MAY GO TO HIGH COURT

Roads Threaten to Appeal From Decision of Commerce Commission

CLAIMS ARE DENIED

Result of Opinion on Contract Between Government and Carriers

(By W. S. GRIMES)
WASHINGTON. — A legal battle with between $300,000,000 and $400,000,000 at stake, may be fought thru supreme court before the railroads and government are able to settle finally their financial claims.

Railroad executives Saturday night were considering whether they would appeal from a decision of the interstate commerce commission, the effect of which is to deny them the huge sum they claimed on the ground that their labor was demoralized and rendered inefficient by federal control.

While an appeal by the railroads would hold up the final settlement with the government, it would not necessarily affect the administration plans for settling such claims of the roads against the government and claims of the government against the roads, as are admitted by both parties.

COMMISSIONER'S DECISION
The interstate commerce commission decision Saturday was in a case that resulted from the government's promise to maintain the roads in as good condition as when it took them over or else pay the roads for the "uncertainty." This promise to maintain the roads and the transportation act made a similar provision to extend beyond federal control.

The measure of maintenance work to be done was what was done in an average six months' period during the three years ending June 30, 1917.

Under the provision the roads claimed there should be considered increased wages, increased cost of materials, the alleged "inefficiency of labor," and depreciation of property purchased at high prices.

TWO CLAIMS DENIED
The interstate commerce commission allowed the first two claims and denied the last two in a decision from which the three commissioners, Daniels, Potter and Campbell, dissented.

The commission stated, in commenting on the claim for "inefficiency of labor," that "any attempt to weigh and appraise so indefinite a factor could only be productive of endless controversy."

"The soundness of this conviction and the inconclusive character of the attempt at a statement confirmed by the claims which the carriers have filed," the commission said.

The total claims of the railroads for "under-maintenance" is estimated at something over $700,000,000.
The claims for labor inefficiency and property depreciation are estimated at about half of this.

The interstate commerce commission's decision has been confirmed by the claims which the carriers have filed," the commission said.

WASHINGTON — An increase in business of more than $1,000,000, for the week was reflected in the federal reserve board's statement issued Saturday. All leading business centers in the country except Cleveland shared in the increase, the board announced.

NEWSMAN IN HUNT FOR A JOB

Willing to Work, But Found Nothing Open

20 MEN FOR EVERY JOB

Employment Situation As Found By Investigator

By A NEWS REPORTER

Employment for the man with no particular trade or skill is next to impossible to find in Lima, inquiries made about the city disclose.

An investigator who sought positions in various portions of the city found no one who had work to offer, or who knew of anyone who was looking for men. Alfio the survey was not as comprehensive as could be desired, a very clear idea of the situation was obtained.

Positions for unskilled or semi-skilled workers are very hard to find. Men with trades find it a little easier to procure work, but many of them are out of employment or working only part time.

Certain lines of work that are slack in July and August have contributed to the already prevalent unemployment. Employers in the city are making every effort to keep their forces in hopes of better times. For this reason they are in most instances giving preference to regular help, when they have positions open.

STRANGERS BREAK IN

Strangers of persevering personality, have in some instances, it was learned, been successful in getting work here, where home workers failed to connect with the payroll.

A newcomer in the city applying at a local plant, secured employment, because the firm was needing a man with experience at the time he applied. His experience is, however, the exception that proves the rule.

Employment agencies state that there are practically no positions to be had in the city for male clerical workers or sales people. Most of the stores in the city are filled up, majority of their employees being women.

Application at the social service bureau resulted in the information that they had no calls at present for men without special ability.

Mrs. Irene Mills Jackson, in charge of the bureau, stated that there are 20 men on the list of those seeking work, for every vacancy.

"I have a full crew of men," a sewer contractor told the investigator, "and do not need any more." He did not seem favorably impressed with the applicant's ability.

Afterward learning his identity, he stated that a year ago he could not get enough men, or material for that matter, to build the water main that he was now building.

Otherwise the bulletin board was barren of information for male workers, when the investigator visited the office. He was told "there isn't anything doing today."

WOMEN ARE FAVORED

Women are somewhat in demand, judging from the bulletin board, however. Positions for stenographers, maids, waitresses and domestic workers are listed.

Seeing a possible chance to obtain work on the streets, Claude Zartman, superintendent of streets was approached.

"I haven't a thing," he stated; "in fact, I'm laying some of my best men off temporarily. I hope to put them back soon, and might give you a chance then."

It was impossible to visit the south side industrial region in time to see any of the employment superintendents in person, Saturday. The investigator was told, however, at employment offices and by practically everyone else, that it would be a waste of shoe leather to do so. Strangers are not being employed and dozens of men who have been working there for a number of years are laid off.

"MEXICAN CARUSO" HAS HIGH HOPES FOR SELF

SYRACUSE, N. Y. — The "Mexican Caruso" paid a visit to Syracuse a day or two ago. This "Caruso" was named Signor Roberto Aranda. He speaks only Spanish. He is a graduate of several educational institutions in Mexico City, whence he hails. Aranda has a rich, wonderful voice," according to Mary Garden, before whom he sang in Los Angeles, but it must be trained, said John McCormack.

Who, Aranda stated, also praised his "sweet tenor" but recommended a season or two under a voice culture artist. Aranda is twenty-eight, but he looks much younger. His appearance in Syracuse followed a more or less trucking of highways from the Coast. He said he had used his voice en route to pave the way for a "square" meal, and a Good Samaritan here and there had helped him. He is destined for New York to consult the Spanish Consul General there. From there, Aranda plans to obtain assistance to enable him to secure the necessary instructions which he believes will lead to that height in voice control and sweetness before which the operatic world will bow.

BANKER SPURGIN NOW BELIEVED IN PORTO RICO

CHICAGO—Warren C. Spurgin, wrecker of the Michigan-ave Trust company, was believed by authorities here Saturday to have escaped to Porto Rico.

Spurgin has been missing since it was discovered nearly a million dollars of the funds of the bank were gone.

Detectives tonight received a wire from Major General McIntyre, chief of the insular service, saying the police of Porto Rico had wired Spurgin's description, believing they have the absconding banker shadowed there.

ENGLAND HONORS HAWKER AT FUNERAL

Bearing Hawker's body to St. Paul's churchyard, at Hook. England paid its final tribute to Harry Hawker, intrepid aviator, when that hero's body was laid to rest in St. Paul's churchyard at Hook.

near Brighton, England. Hawker and a companion were the first men to attempt a non-stop flight across the Atlantic. They failed and were given up for lost when a fishing schooner finally arrived in port with them. Hawker was killed during an exhibition flight recently. British notables attended the funeral.

FOR the purpose of getting first hand evidence of the employment situation, a reporter for The Lima News made a tour of the city Saturday, seeking a position of any kind that would bring him a financial return—so he stated.

He wasn't really looking for a job, but was putting himself in the place of many who are. What he found he tells in a special story herewith.

The situation as it now exists is a strong argument in favor of those who can possibly do so, to provide employment for others. Any little job of work about the home premises will assist somebody. Clean-up and repair tasks will help to tide someone over the unemployment period.

The experience met by The Lima News reporter is but a reflection of that which many others have found. Until business conditions are adjusted, everyone who can possibly afford employment to another, even for a day, should do so.

SEEMS IN VAIN FOR WORK

FOR the purpose of getting first hand evidence of the employment situation, a reporter for The Lima News made a tour of the city Saturday, seeking a position of any kind that would bring him a financial return—so he stated.

He wasn't really looking for a job, but was putting himself in the place of many who are. What he found he tells in a special story herewith.

The situation as it now exists is a strong argument in favor of those who can possibly do so, to provide employment for others. Any little job of work about the home premises will assist somebody. Clean-up and repair tasks will help to tide someone over the unemployment period.

SINN FEINERS ARE RELEASED

British Promise to Let Prisoners Free is Kept.

DUBLIN. — Immediate, and unconditional freedom for all members of the Sinn Fein parliament, imprisoned or interned, was announced late this evening at Dublin Castle.

The sole exception was a member of the Dail Eireann who was imprisoned on a charge of murder. He will be held for future action.

The announcement was in line with the government's promise that the members would be released when called by "President" De Valera to pass on the British peace proposals.

Despite the fact that army observers believed there was small hope of a peace agreement so long as De Valera refused to decide with Sinn Fein that De Valera shall represent all Ireland in the final negotiations, there was believed to be some hope in the fact that arrangements for the Dail Eireann meeting were proceeding.

It was the firm belief of many that the Sinn Fein cabinet has decided there is a foundation for further negotiations with Great Britain.

This decision is expected to be presented to Dail Eireann for its approval. If the approval is voted, the assumption is that De Valera will communicate with Premier Lloyd George, presenting his suggestions for continuing the peace conference.

It is recognized as a big stumbling block. There is no hope that that section of Ireland will consent to a conference in any part of the island prior to resumption of conferences in London.

MAKES GOOD HER PROMISE TO WED RELEASED PRISONER

BROCKTON, Mass. — Living up to her promise made to her sweetheart when he was sentenced to the Plymouth House of Correction several months ago for manslaughter, Miss Bernice Holland, formerly of Brockton, went to Great Bay, Nova Scotia, last week and was married to John A. Donnell, restaurant owner.

Donnell was liberated from Plymouth Jail several weeks ago. His sentence being cut short in order to enable him to go to Nova Scotia to see his father, who was critically ill. He was convicted of having caused the death of a man by running him down with his automobile last fall.

At that time Miss Holland made the promise that she would wait for him, and would marry him when he was given his freedom.

BODIES OF FOUR PERSONS FOUND AT KENTUCKY HOME

CORBIN, Ky. — The bodies of Richard McHargue, his wife, stepdaughter, and mother, were found at the home of McHargue's mother, Mrs. Polly McHargue, near here Saturday.

Police believe McHargue killed the three women and then committed suicide.

MEN AND MATTERS.

Joe A. Dutton, former Buckeye Pipe attache here and at the time the Tammany leader of the county, is back on a visit from Houston, Texas. Joe is out of the oil game and the head of a big construction company which is rapidly pulling Texas out of the mud.

"The oil business will come back," said Dutton. "Current demand for lubricating oils will solve the problem for refiners. Just now everything but gasoline is a drug on the market and going into storage."

Dan Kerwin, the farm baron, has been called to Washington where it is rumored he is to go on the commission which will handle farm loans under reorganization plans now under way.

Jack Shannon, one time deputy United States marshal in this district, has hit it rich in the opening of a new oil pool near Houston, Texas. His first well starting off at 2,000 barrels a day.

"Good stocks are on the bargain counter," said Joe Cowan, of The Wholesale company. "Investors are the only buyers and now they will reap a harvest, for the fall months will bring a rising market and cheap money will start the speculation. Look for August to be dull."

WOULD STOP SALE OF REVOLVERS

Lima Men Do Not Agree With Chicagoan's Idea

Ceasing Manufacture of Weapon is Opposed

History has recorded many deeds of valor and many of crime committed by use of revolvers. They have been carried by noblemen and thugs. Duels have been fought with them by aristocrats and between police and crooks. The revolver has played an important part in all wars. It followed the frontier in this country and was especially useful in the west, where a man's best friend was his deadly 45.

Has the death knell sounded for that handy weapon, the revolver? John W. Thompson, a millionaire real-estate owner of Chicago, thinks it has. He recently declared the weapon is for no useful purpose and would stop its manufacture and sale.

Many Lima people queried on the subject deny the statement. They still consider the revolver a necessity for protection against crime.

Laws have been passed controlling the use of the weapon and it is a violation to carry a revolver concealed. Only officers authorized by law may legally carry them concealed.

OPINIONS OF CITIZENS

Statements from prominent Lima men concerning the question of stopping the manufacture and sale of revolvers are interesting.

Emmit Jackson, judge of Criminal court, "I would hate to think of not being able to secure a revolver if I needed one to protect my home. They can be used in the right way and are valuable. True, they are often used in the wrong way, but it is hard to stop this completely, and this makes it necessary for the average citizen to be able to protect himself."

Rev. Paul Brosy, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, "In the ideal situation, no firearms of any kind would be needed. If all people were ideal, they would be unnecessary, but all people are not and circumstances alter the procedure. At times extreme measures are necessary. I can easily see where circumstances might arise where a revolver would be quite necessary for protection."

N. E. Thomas, Evans & Thomas, hardware, "We have no trade at all in revolvers, the we can supply the very slight demand. The only time the revolver trade picks up is when some crime wave or scare hits a city. I do not see why they should stop manufacturing them. The great number of men keep revolvers in their homes I doubt if 90 per cent of them are ever used and 50 per cent of the owners would probably not know how to shoot them if the occasion demanded."

F. C. Cunningham, cashier First National Bank, "Revolvers are known to have saved many banks in the country from being robbed. I consider them a necessity to a banking institution and I do not know of a bank that does not possess revolvers for protection. I would not like to think it was impossible for a bank to secure weapons, for if they did cease their manufacture the persons who use them wrongfully would still possess them and would be more dangerous as these would be the last men to give them up."

Joel Spyker, Spyker's hardware store, "I believe Mr. Thompson's idea is all right. We have not carried any in stock for months. I quit selling them because the majority of the people who bought them were probably using them wrongfully. It is impossible to tell what a man is going to use a revolver for, because if they will use them in crime they will have other alibis for buying them when they purchase them."

W. W. Crooks, freight agent Pennsylvania freight, "We don't use any in the freight business, but I would consider them absolutely necessary to the express business and the mails. I think it would be foolish to stop the manufacture of them but if they were all taken off the market we would all be in the same boat. Of course, it is true the men that have the most of them shouldn't have them. If they would all disappear we would have to fight with clubs and that would be better anyway, because we could not get hurt as bad."

W. H. Branson, Jones Hardware Co., "We don't sell many here, as we do not carry a large stock. I think a great many men keep guns in their homes as a matter of protection. Some men have kept revolvers for years without ever shooting them, but feel prepared in case a burglar should attempt to enter their home. Traveling men and business men who must leave the city often, keep guns for their wives' safety."

The better and average class of people buy the most revolvers. Of course some of the lower class buy them. I suppose to carry a revolver they should stop their manufacture, for as a means of safety and protection they are valuable."

AS ROUSH SEES IT

Chief of Police Roush: "It is ridiculous to think a revolver is of no value. What would we do to capture criminals without revolvers? Personally I think every man should keep a revolver in his home as a means of protection."

E. P. Jones Hardware Store: "We sell quite a few revolvers and the business will pick up from now on, due to the hunting season. Most of the men who go hunting in the north-west carry revolvers as a side arm, both for game and for protection."

"All classes of people buy revolvers but the percentage that buy them for criminal purposes is very low in my estimation. A great number have them in their homes for protection."

"Scares and reports of crime waves makes the sales mount, as men are anxious to have some means of protection. A good many men buy with no particular object; just to have one. I don't think they should stop making them, for the criminals can always get them, while the citizen might be unprotected and defenseless."

Leon Venick, manager Philip Kohn & Co. Loan office: "We sell a few but all are for home protection as far as we can find out. We keep a record with names and addresses and have never found anyone who bought a revolver for criminal purposes. I think they are valuable as a means of safety and that they should continue to manufacture them."

The "Made in Lima" exposition, to feature the formal opening of the new Moose home at West and North streets, August 18, is expected to be one of the most interesting, as well as one of the most entertaining affairs of its kind ever held in Lima. The exposition will continue August 18 to 27, inclusive.

The "Made in Lima" exposition will not conflict with the Allen-co fair or the fall trade show of the merchants planned for September. Backers of the exposition declare the exposition will be a distinctive and entirely different sort of undertaking.

This they say is because the Moose show will deal entirely with "Made in Lima" products. Unqualified endorsement and support has been given the Moose show by the Allen-co fair officials and the officers and directors of the Merchants' association.

Music will be one of the big features of the Moose show and special programs will be presented each night. One of the treats will be the offering of the Ragtime orchestra, which was on tour of the B. F. Keith and Orpheum vaudeville circuits with the celebrated Dr. Marcel. Other noted organizations will be the Miller & Shomas Band, the Merry-makers, Rothlisberger's orchestra, the Miller & Thomas Syncopated Blues. With each of these organizations there will be a concert soloist.

There will be a score of other splendid amusement offerings. It is planned to make the exposition in every way possible appealing and attractive to the more than 65,000 persons who are expected to attend during the nine big nights.

Plans for the exposition are far ahead of schedule. Even better progress is expected to be made during the ensuing week.

There will be a get-together meeting of all the Moose workers and members at the temporary home in the Stein block Thursday night, when reports will be made and further preparations put into execution for what is expected to be the biggest indoor show ever held in this section of the state.

RUSSIAN SOVIET PREMIER TO MAKE TOUR OF ENGLAND

COPENHAGEN—Nikolai Lenin, soviet premier, plans to leave Moscow between August 15 and 20 to travel in England, according to a dispatch from Reval Saturday night.

The report said Lenin had been ordered by physicians to travel for his health.

Other reports said a trip was planned, but ascribed it to a violent quarrel with Leon Trotsky over measures for combating the famine in Russia.

That the turning point may have been reached in the railroad industry was evidenced Saturday when it was announced that five of the 100 locomotives to be rebuilt for the New York Central had arrived at the shops of the Lima Locomotive Works. Others may be sent here in the near future, Harry L. Breckenridge, purchasing agent of the company, stated Saturday.

Announcement that the New York Central was to send 100 of its largest and most powerful engines to shops of the country for repair was incorporated in an article published in a recent issue of Railway Age, official trade paper of the industry.

Some of the big locomotives will be allotted to the American Locomotive shops, and as a starter, it was stated that five are already in the Lima shops.

How many more the local plant will obtain, in addition to those already sent here, could not be learned. Mr. Breckenridge, the only official of the south side works who could be reached, said the matter did not belong to his department but that five locomotives are here and that he understands others are to arrive in the near future; just how many, he could not state.

MAY INCREASE ORDER

If the local works are successful in obtaining another consignment of locomotives for repair as is probable, at least $150,000 will be expended for labor and material, depending on the condition of the engines.

Whether the order received by the south side plant will result in re-employment of men could not be learned. The plant has been running alone during the spring and summer on a reduced basis. Announcement was made early in the spring that the company had sufficient orders in sight to carry on until August 1. The repair order, with prospects of an increased allotment, is a promise of a return of activities to full swing.

STEAMER, CARRYING MANY PASSENGERS RUNS ON ROCK

SAN FRANCISCO — The steamer Alaska, running between San Francisco and Portland, struck a rock at Blunt's Reef, Calif., Saturday night, according to advices to the marine department of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

Messengers state that she was leaking and severely damaged. At that hour wireless stations were unable to communicate with the vessel.

The Alaska was en route from Portland to San Francisco. She was operated by San Francisco and Portland Steamship Co.

How many passengers were aboard was not known here but it was presumed she carried a large list.

Five residents of the Ada Saturday night either walked back or took the train.

P. H. Shank, employee of the Ada Auto Sales company transported four men to Lima in an Overland truck. He parked the machine near the Argos Hotel and visited a movie show. When he returned, the truck was gone. The theft was reported to police.

Shank wasn't at all worried as to how his passengers were to get back to Ada. They paid him in advance for the round trip, he said.

GOVERNOR PAINTS ROSY PICTURE

What He Said in Baltimore About Ohio Conditions

OLD O. P. GETS NEW RAKING

Capitol Political Conditions are Reflected

offices, the ladies, God bless 'em, are getting too busy to run for office and become popular kicking posts.

About ever so often, the Ohio Penitentiary is given a raking over and its time has now come. Little Charlie Jones, private secretary to Senator Frank B. Willis, started the movement and got the State Senators into it. Once he thought he had hooked Governor Davis, but the big fellow had enough trouble on his hands to think of putting any of the Cleveland gang in charge, seeing that his city already had 35 or 37 per cent of the prisoners here. So Governor Davis broke and ran away from Charlie a long time ago. The Senators walked right into his trap, which seems to have been laid on the idea of just starting trouble the way Mr. Jones did when he was in the state government. It's part of his being. The committee fussed around with campaign yarns and other trifles and finally concluded that Warren Preston Thomas is a rattling good official. Of course, that was old stuff to the state and the committee soon lost interest. Still not perceiving that the investigation is a dead horse, a couple of strings of newspapers took it up, according to gossip, because the editor was once robbed. And so the poor, old prison has another raking over. But Warden Thomas should take heart; the thing will soon be over and forgotten.

Blame has been handed about for conditions in Columbus and the prison farm; but seemingly none of the investigators have minds directed enough to locate the trouble. The blame, the evidence shows, rests with former Governor Frank B. Willis and Governor Harry L. Davis. The facts show this clearly. The conclusions drawn by one set of inquirers passes the test of journalists generally, while the committee has been so busy looking for little things that it has overlooked the larger ones. Instead of going ahead with the plans as laid out, work has been stopped and started and stopped. Today no one knows where it stands. The ripper legislation delayed things for six months and the present job of Director of Welfare is obviously too big for "Doc" MacFarland, the retired Akron preacher who was loaded up with a task of four giants. Like all departments where the directors made the mistake of not regarding themselves as superfluous and tried to take actual hold, the things in the Welfare Department are in a welter. Winter will come on and nothing more will have been done on the farm prison. Meanwhile, the director, with a heap of work on his hands is called to consider highway jobs, freight rates and dozens of other problems, of which he has no knowledge and less experience.

There are probably today fewer Democrats and more Republicans in county offices than ever before in the history of Ohio. A few days ago county clerks and county treasurers retired from office and in most instances the newcomers were members of the G. O. P. faith. They occupied strongholds never before occupied while Democrats, for years these offices, went out to make the living in private life. But the whirligig of politics never stops whirling or giggling. The mayors in many cities who came into office on the first wave of the big landslide of 1920, which rolled up in 1919, are now preparing for the test of their lives and early reports would seem to show that many of them are doomed to be cast ashore. The Davis administration in Columbus and the Harding administration in Washington are not helping them a particle either, which is a fact that ought to be remembered. "Normalcy" times and one of the worst state governments in 118 years give the people the same desire for a change they had a few months ago. Still it must not be forgotten that possession of all the offices is a big asset to the party in power, being so many listening posts and so many points of support.

Interesting news on the trend of things elsewhere is furnished by a review of the Kentucky situation. State senators are the most important officers to be elected this fall and in only half of the districts but it appears that the contest will be a walkway for the Jacksonians. This talk must have been heard here about Kentucky looting the permanent ranks of the G. O. P. appears to be largely bunco. Old Tope Hertz, with his ability to organize the negroes, and his wallet will be missed and it seems that no real successor is in sight. There are more than half of the districts where the Republicans are not contesting with any candidates and this even includes districts in which the vote has heretofore been close. The election figures this fall will be the election figures since March and therefore worth looking at. The anger of the people against the breaking of promises to them will make for a tight vote. They will blame the government, where shameless politicians should be blamed.

March of events is shown in the elimination of algebra as a high school requirement from the schools of Ohio. The educational logic back of this movement remains unexplained, although some thousands of politicians have been printed on the subject. The same story that carries the news of the dropping of algebra says that another change is being made in the curriculum of the schools.

teen courses necessary in order to be able to take the place. Now if the logic is sound, the persons stupid in regard to algebra are to be eliminated from the list of subjects that were taken in the schools. Now goes mathematics and the business man looking for employees who can think must consult other places.

It's like going back a century to read the advertisement of a southern Ohio shoe company which is opening a branch in fronton. It contains a notice to "all females who desire clean employment" to come to the shop. The advertisement strangely recalls the real posters of "female slave" at large and aid asked in her recapture. Was it done deliberately? The game of teaching those who work "their places" is the favorite past time of the day and accounts for many things, political and economic. The times have been made harder by it and any employer who is not in touch with the prevailing spirit finds resentment against himself. To be popular with one element cut wages, then give them another cut and finally speak of employees as though they were cattle to be bought at so much a pound. That is called "teaching labor its place."

Are people as happy during hard times as during good ones? It is a serious question. What calls it to mind is an account in a country newspaper of an excursion of Richmond to people to Cedar Point. There are growls as to hard times and depression and low prices and all, but when the whistle tooted the "keen observer" finds the usual quota aboard the train and all determined upon the best of times, hard times or no hard times. Make a study of the faces of people out of employment and recall the days when employers looked desperately for men to collect the day before the "change" came. After you have done so, for diversion, and to keep from worrying about the hard times of today, make up your mind how much misery the depression has caused.

Ohio's only real auditor in the present century used to speak of making government function and prescribed as a weapon an elm club—you know the kind if you have ever heard Vic talk. He perceived it was not law that was needed but as much as courage and uprightness as a determination to do things. Does a tax payer wish to know whether an individual is on the payroll? The information can not be located. Do things go amiss in the Highway department where they are now spending money at more than a million dollars a week? No one knows. Thus it goes. And all sorts of propositions are being unloaded on the state, all costing money, because the watch has been relaxed and the elm club is no longer doing its work. Only last week, the Americanization department which is now composed of 38 per cent partisan propaganda, 1 1/2 per cent plain loafing and one-half of one per cent (Volstead law strength) Americanization work, brought in a Chinaman to talk about Americanization. And bless you a chinaman has more trouble remaining here even, let alone becoming a citizen, than a camel has in passing thru the eye of a needle. This Chinaman's name was Tehyl Hsieh and it was not until the last line that press agent told why he was brought here.

"When asked about the League of Nations, he declared it was impractical." And taxpayers are shelling out good money for this.

It is absolutely marvelous the manner in which the lawyers can dig up questions to fire at the Ohio Supreme court. Ever since the law went off at a tangent from legal lines on the emergency law issue, the lawyers have come to the conclusion that the old rules do not go since there has been a new shuffle. They want to be dealt in for the new deal because there's a chance for some big hands. The decisions have just unsettled the law. The Court has acquired the name of the Four-to-Three association and will have more business before it than ever before in its history. Take the cases as to the validity of the statutes prescribing duties of employers. Each and every one will be headed for the court on the strength of the Patten case, which knocked out the safe scaffolding law. Now some one has brought up the old issue of whether mineral leases can be partitioned. So it goes. The dockets next fall will be fat, unusually so.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS

THIS is the epoch in business and industry when the desk becomes burdened with literature of enthusiasts who keep harping about "stepping on the gas" and repeating that the depression is imaginary, or in the words of a former president, "purely psychological." All that is required for such over-zealous and blinded persons is to give Father Time their fanning, and either their bank or the bankruptcy court will do the rest.

National business, as a whole, is, however, reported in the trade reviews as improved. Notable are the textile trades and dry goods lines. Otherwise the week has not been hopeful. Money promptly went back to six percent in the East, after the easing to as low as 3-1/2 percent the preceding week. Stocks are a drug, for lack of buyers, new issues continue to sell at a discount of buyers; the public or to underwriter. Public work is being done at enormous cost, contractors being forced to take payment in bonds which they promptly sell to bond houses at a heavy discount as high as 15 percent, and the poor taxpayer pays the discount, while city and county officials pat themselves on the back as some financiers. The contractors naturally add the 15 percent to the amount of their bids and laugh.

Basic conditions are not optimistic. Iron ore is in poor demand; lumber is scarcely moving, none of the byproducts of crude oil, except gasoline, are selling and lubricating oils must sell as industry resumes, being one of the very best barometers. There is more or less building over the country, but not ten percent of what is needed. Houses must go up before rents come down, and neither materials nor labor is at that point when a man with or able to get money wishes to put it into rental properties.

Logically, we are moving along smoothly, but unemployment is increasing rather than declining. Houses are now about equal to demand, showing the drift back "home" of the unemployed who were never permanent residents. Money is desperately tight in Lima banks and Building and Loans, the latter being borrowers even under restricted acceptances. Export trade is dead, England is not buying raw materials as usual at this season, probably due to her own labor troubles.

There is always a silver lining. The United States needs little export trade, she has millions of dollars worth of construction waiting the time when building prices are at the bottom. The railroads need millions in equipment; waiting the time when the government pays and earnings show favorably. Then will come the drop in rates and industry will resume. And still again, let us all remember that poor times mean only the last fifteen to twenty percent. Eighty percent of our 120,000,000 people are still working, and must be fed, clothed and have shelter. Lima is in far better condition than other cities of her class. In the last analysis, it is only the war boom that is being washed out.

DEATH STILL CARUSO'S VOICE

IN the passing from this life, during the week, of Enrico Caruso, the voice of the world's greatest tenor has been stilled by death. It is unlikely that the music world will ever again hear such another voice.

His death occurred in Naples, where Caruso would probably have wished, if he had known the nearness of the grim reaper. Acclaimed the world over, when stricken by illness he returned to the land of the Sorrento sun, in the hope that his native environment might aid in restoring him to physical health. But it failed.

Long her favorite, the Muse of Melody deserted him as he was at the very zenith of his triumph, she departed from him as does a loving mother from her dead son. The silver cord is loosed. The golden bowl is broken. Caruso now lives only in memory and in the magic of the wonder-working phonographic disc which so accurately recorded his superb voice as it was raised in song.

A native of Italy, the great Caruso came to America to afford the opportunity for the best there was in music to be heard by Americans. Countless thousands of people on this continent heard him on his tours. Many Lima people attended his concerts elsewhere. He never visited this city, but his voice has been and still is here, in many homes.

In the very height of his fame and renown he is called from this life, the penalty that all must pay, high and low, rich and poor. He made a brave fight for life against an insidious disease. He struggled vainly. Artistic culture has lost perhaps its greatest exponent and music one of its most wonderful interpreters. The world of music will long remember Caruso. It can never altogether forget.

"DOG DAYS"—WHEN AND WHY

HERE is discussion between calendars and astronomers as to the time of the beginning and the duration of the period commonly known as "Dog Days." It is commonly believed that they mean the sultriest part of the summer.

The helical rising of Sirius, or the Dog Star, is supposed to inaugurate the performance and the ancients credited such conjunction of the sun with Canis Major with most of the maladies common to summer. Dog days are rather tough on canines as well as humans and the canine clan is supposed to be susceptible to hydrophobia at such a time. But human beings as well as dogs are mad when prickly heat gets in its work and the athletic apparel sticks to one's back, or the festive mosquito or chigger get in their work.

Men lug along their ancient superstitions long after experience and enlightenment should teach them the fallacy of it. In our boyhood days, the kids were forbidden to go in swimming during dog days, because of some sort of virulence the season was popularly supposed to impart to pond or lake or running stream. However, some progress has been made. We know now that bathing is beneficial at such a time, if the water is wholesome. As a matter of fact, swimming is about the best hot weather exercise. One should have some exercise, but not too much.

There is no longer any doubt in the minds of those who are not superstitious that most of the hot weather maladies are due to something other than the temperature or stellar stunts. A lot of folks hurry in hot weather when they are not going any place in particular. It is unnecessary. Nature should slow up. Even the busy bee works more leisurely. When crisp autumn and bleak winter come again, it is time to speed up. Health and comfort in hot weather demand consideration of the body.

And don't get excited about "Dog Days"

CITY GOVERNMENT

ON Tuesday next the electorate must choose ten men from whom in turn, five will be selected at the November election as Lima's first City Commission. This body of five will choose a Mayor, or he will be designated by the highest vote, and will then select a City Manager.

The News has never been wildly excited over the City Manager form of government; it has seen city governments of all kinds, democratic, republican, socialist and independent, and it has seen little difference in any of them. The News, speaking brutally but frankly, is a pessimist on Municipal or County governments, regardless of the personnel of those governments. For this reason, it has no roseate dreams of Lima becoming the Wunder City, thru its new form of government.

The News does believe that if we are to change the form, the new Commission should be composed of men fitted for official duties. It believes it has designated four men who are so fitted, and makes no attempt to suggest a fifth; among the remaining sixteen names are still others who may be as well fitted as the four we are pointing out. The voter himself can pick his particular friend in that list.

The interest of The News in this primary and new form of government is no more nor less than the interest every good citizen should have in his own city government. The growth of The News as well as your own individual growth depends upon the growth and prosperity of Lima. That is why The News requests you to consider the selection of Col. John A. Harley, who deserves election from sheer merit and services rendered, Minor C. Crossley, who has served in many official capacities and is a man beyond reproach; Harold C. Cunningham, life long Lima citizen, merchant and conservative man of affairs, and Harry L. Beckenridge, a trained purchasing agent, who should be invaluable at the inception of this new form of city government.

BAR FLANDERS POPPY

SENTIMENT prompted the plan of transplanting the poppy from Flanders field in Europe to American soil. The flower is revered by many as a symbol of someone dear to them who lost his life on a Belgian battlefield. Hence, the suggestion to grow the beautiful bloom in America.

But it is opposed, by Dr. Arthur Gilbert, state commissioner of Agriculture of Massachusetts, who warns against importing the flower. He bases his objections on economic rather than sentimental grounds. He sees the gaudy bloom as an agricultural menace. He warns that in time it may become a second "ox-eyed daisy." In Flanders it is not cultivated for its beauty or cherished for its sentiment. It is seen in large quantities there because its growth has gotten beyond the control of authorities. Gilbert declares the poppy could, easily rival the "Brown-eyed Susan" in damaging American hay crops.

This objection recalls the futile protests that were voiced when the English sparrow was imported to this country and when the German carp was placed in fish ponds. Gilbert may be right; he probably is. We may live to regret the bringing of the poppy to America, as were those who introduced the mongoose into their country to destroy snakes, when the former became a worse pest than the latter.

MISS LIMA: "When the Cubans get so excited they have a riot and kill three at a funeral, what would they do at an extra-inning base ball game at Murphy-st park?"

OLD SCISSORS SAYS:

A Lima man admits that there is some doubt as to just what is meant by a "joy ride," but he is convinced it is a settled fact that it is not a polar expedition.

The old-fashioned "cool of the evening" has gone out of business.

IT'S LATE, THAT'S ALL.

Dear Roy—Why is it that every time I go to the theater all by myself the seat on either side of me is occupied by an unescorted female. Am I lucky or is this a house policy?

HOP.

A NEEDED IMPROVEMENT.

On the Broadway N. Y. subway they have installed phonographs, loud-mouthed, raucous machines, to announce the stations. And the transfer points to the passengers who do not know where they are going. It is hoped by many people that, in the interest of art, the company may find time soon to equip the machines with such opera selections as "Carmen," "La Boheme," "Gottterdammerung," and others, to play between stations and entertain the passengers. It might be possible at times to play an entire opera between one station and the next, and the passengers could forget all their other troubles.

JUST FOLKS—BY EDGAR A. GUEST

A TASK TO DO

A task to do and a bite to eat,
A coat to wear and a bed at night,
These four make up this life complete,
All else is sham if you view it right.
A task to do and a home to keep,
A wife to smile and a child to love,
A place to play and a place to sleep—
What more shall be in the Heaven above?

One task is all that a man can do,
One coat is all that a man can wear,
He who has eaten a dinner thru
Could cut no more of the costliest fare;
Gold cannot sweeten a baby's smile,
Fame cannot better a good wife's kiss,
Sleep doesn't come to the couch of style,
So rest content as you think of this.

Work is the father of appetite—
(Copyright, 1921.)

BETTER THE DINNER THAT'S TRULY EARNED

Better the dinner that's truly earned
Than the silvered table that glows at night,
Where little is eaten and much is spined.
Better he sleeps at the close of day
Who weary comes to his humble bed,
Than the man who putteth no care away, Better he wakes when the night is sped.

The humble home and the castle wall Shelter men's happiness, yours and mine,
And God has given the same to all
And strengthened them by His love divine,
A task to do and a bite to eat,
A coat to wear and a bed at night,
These four make up this life complete,
All else is sham if you view it right.

HEALTH HINTS

By William Brady, M. D.
(ANHEDONIA SERIES—11)
TAKE A BRACER EVERY HOUR
Splanchnic anhedonia, what, as every schoolboy now knows, is the incapacity to enjoy life associated with sagging abdominal organs, is pretty generally induced or at least favored by a slumpy posture. If you will stop and look about and visualize your cheerful, happy, good-natured acquaintances, you will find that they are all fairly well set up, they carry themselves well, they have a good posture. On the other hand, recall the slumpy, slouchy, ungainly posture of your sad, gloomy, melancholic or unhappy friends. Is good posture an expression, merely, of vigor, health and cheerful mindedness, or is health of body and mind a state more or less dependent on good posture? Of course the answer to this question is a matter of opinion. In my opinion good posture is rather the determinant of the physical and mental health that assures happiness. I am no believer in that popular injunction "smile and be happy." To my mind you have got to be happy in order to register a real smile. And happiness is health. In recommending half a dozen or more somersaults on the floor, or on a mattress or mat or pillows, each night and morning, as a prophylactic against stagnation of the splanchnic pool and the long train of evils suffered therefrom, I have specified the importance of coming up smiling. Some correspondents of twenty, forty or sixty have written me painful letters asking how in somewhere a person can come up smiling if he is so dizzy and sick he can't get out a bed for a week after the first attempt at somersaults. You see—that is what false dignity and neglect of physical education will do to you.

Bearing in mind, then, children, what I told you the other day about the three-inch lift one can give a sagging stomach or other organ by merely contracting the abdominal muscles and lifting up the chest, and remembering also the pumping effect on the splanchnic pool produced by vigorous contraction of the abdominal muscles (such as occurs in a hearty laugh), it should not be difficult for us to comprehend the good health value of the habit of taking an hourly bracer, a little something to drive away the willies, a sort of an organized stretch, if you know what I mean.

Altho it is best, if possible, to stand up for this hourly bracer, a fairly good bracer may be taken sitting or even lying down. Study your automatic actions, or those of your friends, while naturally laughing and while unconsciously stretching, and strive to imitate those muscular actions in your hourly bracer. Bad business, very bad, to wait for the end of the seventh inning to take a bracer. Most everybody needs one at least every inning. Study your own muscle sensations while you assume a perfectly erect posture standing vigorously at attention, and strive to put all those muscles into action for a moment—no time at all—every hour. Every time the clock strikes take your bracer—drawing the chest well up, chin well in, crown as high as you can reach, toes a little in, shoulders down and back, thumbs out, palms forward, knees stiff, and most particularly of all efface that "stomach."

No Other Car In Its Class
At Such a Low Price

In fact, the Cleveland is in a class by itself. It is as finely designed, in every engineering and mechanical detail, as any car of any size or price. And it is built in its own great modern plant, by men long experienced and skilled in the building of fine cars.

The Cleveland provides qualities that are not found in other cars selling for much more. It will meet your every requirement on any kind of roadway, on the boulevard, paved highway or country road, on the straight-way level road or the steepest hill.

The scientific distribution of weight and the long under-dershing spring construction give to the Cleveland riding comfort on rough roads not excelled by cars weighing twice as much.

Sturdily built, beautifully finished and splendidly upholstered bodies are mounted on the staunch Cleveland chassis.

OIL KING LIVES HIDDEN LIFE

Reporters Barred from Interview with John D. Rockefeller

USES BARBED WIRE FENCE

Fail in Attempt To See Grounds

(By FRANK W. GENTY.)
TARRYTOWN, N. Y.—(International News Service.)—John D. has outdone Georges C.

The former has two rows of barbed wire to keep away reporters.

Ever since he became the world's richest man, John D. Rockefeller has been the goal of Journalism. Thousands of would-be reporters have dashed their ambition against the cross-barred gates and high walls of the Rockefeller estates. One or two have made their way through in the past twenty years or so. It's just as hard today.

"Run out to Tarrytown," says the editor, "and interview John D. Rockefeller. Anything he says will be interesting."

It probably would be. The only trouble is John D. won't say it.

The aspiring reporter comes out to Tarrytown, gets off the train, looks around, and the taxi men piling in. They have seen them come that way—and go—for years and years.

The reporter rides up to the "Sisters' Gate," a twenty-five-cent trip that costs him a dollar and a half. A one-armed guardian, who has been holding down a camp-chair just inside the grounds, saunters to the portal with a pleasant grin. The grin is encouraging. But the guardian is not.

"You can call up Mr. Davis (the Oil King's secretary) if you like," he suggests.

Through the high iron gate the reporter catches a glimpse of pleasant rolling lawns. John D. himself is nowhere in sight.

So the reporter rings up Mr. Davis.

Mr. Davis' voice, like the gate guardian's grin, is encouraging. But, alas for ambition, his words are not.

Mr. Rockefeller never gives out interviews. It is a rule of twenty years' standing," he says, with an air of finality.

"How about getting in for a look about the grounds' feature story," suggests the reporter.

BARBED WIRE GOES ON.

But they have heard that before at Pocantico Hill.

"If you will go to New York and apply to the Rockefeller Foundation, and present the proper credentials, perhaps they will arrange for a guide to take you in," says Mr. Davis, pleasantly. "Of course, I can't say, for it hasn't been done; but I wouldn't say it was impossible."

Is it a warm? Good-bay.

Following which conversation, if his ambition and expense account permit, the reporter makes a tour of the grounds. A bumpy road winds interminably through pleasant hilly country, with a view of the Hudson on the right and two high fences of the best barbed wire on the left. Presently the Hudson fades from view, but the barbed wire does not.

After a while one comes to the other gate, Pocantico Gate.

The only difference here is that the guardian has two arms.

"I'm just a stray visitor over from England," says the reporter. "I'd like, if I may, please, to look at the grounds. I will promise not to pick flowers."

"Young man," says the porter, "you are the four hundredth and seventh cub reporter that has told me that since March 1. Kindly keep right on going, and you will strike the main road back to the station."

The barbed wire goes on forever.

Fear of cranks and the necessity of having some time to himself in which to make a little money, keeps the world's richest man penned up inside his gilded cage. He has been secluded so long that many people have ceased to think of him as a personality, until polecats get onto his golf-links or he has a birthday or some diction invents a new arena.

But he is easy in his mind. The encircling walls and red tape make getting into the war-zone or Georges Carpentier's training quarters seem simple in comparison with crashing through to John D.

TIME BUYS SHOP FROM NEGRO PASSERBY

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—"Yes, there's one born every minute," as Barnum said.

Mr. Hober journeyed to Kansas City from his farm near Avondale, Mo. Hober was tired of tilling the soil. He knew of only one way by which he could earn his living in the big city.

"I will buy a poultry shop and live forever in the midst of my fellows and the 'bright lights,'" he said. As Hober stood in front of a certain poultry shop a negro approached.

"Like that?" asked the negro.

"Gee, wish it was mine," replied Hober.

"You can have it for $80," offered the negro.

The bargain was made. Hober paid the negro a $10 bill on the spot. The remaining $70 was to be paid at the same place the following morning. Hober made his appearance the next morning but the negro did not show up.

Hober then called the police.

PEACETIME REFLECTIONS.

ATLANTA, Ga.—If the peace resolution ending the state of war with Germany recently signed by the President, had been made into law Tuesday, June 28, W. N. Boy-Ed, a German, nephew of the famous German spy, would not have seen his warrant charging Swat Tyler, Jr., a young attorney, with attempting to get him to swear falsely, thrown out of court, because Boy-Ed was a citizen of a country with which we are at war and an alien enemy. The case grew out of a divorce suit Boy-Ed's wife had brought. The court ruled Boy-Ed was a German citizen and could not testify, and the case was thrown out of court.

PRIMARY BATTLE DRAWS NEAR

Tuesday is the Day and Citizens' Duty is Plain

REBUKE POLITICAL PLANS

Retrospective and Prospective View of Events

(By J. W. FISHER)

Among the ranks of the voters of this city, men and women whose right of franchise has been established, those who have not as yet determined to their own satisfaction who of the candidates for nomination for city commissioner they desire to see emerge from the ballot battle in the role of winners in the initial contest, have a very short time in which to make up their minds on that important question.

The primary election is to be held Tuesday at the usual voting places. The polls will be open from 5:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m., and ten candidates are to be nominated. From that number five will be elected in November to constitute the first board of city commissioners under this city's new government, to become effective January 1, 1932.

There's the story in a nut shell. It is the program just ahead for Lima and Lima people. This city is not traveling an uncharted sea in this movement. Others have paved the way in discarding the mayoralty and aldermanic plan for the newer and in some respects, at least, more desirable municipal government.

The idea has not been a success everywhere it has been tried out; neither has it been a failure in every case. It has been the experience generally that where politics is eliminated to as great an extent as is humanly possible, the results have been quite satisfactory, albeit not perfect. Whether we now will or no, the commission-manager form of government is to be inaugurated here.

The voters of Lima by a vote of two to one, declared themselves in favor of its adoption. The way was paved nearly a year ago. Those who approved the plan have had ample time to reflect. But reflection that impels a reversal of opinion cannot help now. It is too late. Lima will have to go about the duty of giving it every opportunity for a fair and square trial.

There have been efforts made—lots of them—to engineer the proposition into political channels, but these efforts have been frowned upon so generally that the politicians have been required to scurry to cover and conduct their plans on the gum-shoe order. Don't kid yourself into the belief that there is no politics in it. There has been from the very start, is now and will continue to be, but if the voters are wise—and we believe they are—they will rebuke the effort that is being made by certain elements to elect a partisan board, composed altogether of representatives of one certain political party.

There is little more to be said at this time concerning the duties of the voters that are before them on August 9th and in the November election. Whether you favor the commission-manager plan or not, it is your duty to vote, if you are entitled to exercise that right as a citizen.

Saying nothing whatever in disparagement of any one of the candidates listed, this advocate of good judgment in municipal affairs firmly believes that there should be no question whatever of the nomination of Colonel Jack Harley, Harold Cunningham, Minor Crossley, and Harry L. Breckenridge. These men assuredly deserve the support of all the electors and their election, it is believed, will result in the commission-manager plan being given every opportunity to justify itself. These men would provide the essentials that are necessary.

However, since we live under a form of government where majority rules, it is the privilege of electors to vote for whoever they chose. But experiences in the past should afford proof to the people of Lima, haphazard voting is generally attended by disaster later. See to it that capable men are nominated on Tuesday and then follow it up later with a determination that capable men be elected and clothed with authority.

A good friend suggests that this column has overlooked something, namely: That it has accused Governor Harry L. Davis of being guilty of about everything save the mid-summer drought and consequent shortage of crops. One would scarcely have the temerity to do such a thing, in the face of the fact that only a few years ago a certain Republican administration claimed credit for sunshine, equable rains and splendid crops. And Governor Davis is a Republican, you know.

It is regrettable, indeed, if anything has been overlooked in presenting the case of Governor Davis who says he is "doing for (or rather to) Ohio what he did for Cleveland." Republicans who draw their information and inspiration from G. O. P. newspapers are not getting the real political news out of Columbus these days. Neither are they being told what is transpiring in Washington. It would never do to have the facts presented in newspapers espousing the cause of the party now in control, by grace of promises galore and misrepresentation in the campaign. The folks who hurried so confidently to the polls to vote "for a change," now for the most part wish they hadn't.

But speaking of Governor Davis, and the state administration, the very latest evidence of the fear of the G. O. P. leaders that if the real truth gets to the voters there will be a reversal of form at the first opportunity, lies in the fact that steps have been taken to make the affair of state government a secret. It is now proposed to create a state centralized news bureau, with a $5,000 a year man on the job at its head. The object is the exploiting of news that will glorify the G. O. P. and suppress that which will

The new method probably grows out of the time censorship. But it is necessary in war time will scarcely be tolerated in peace time. The latest plan of the Columbus crowd to censor the news will, if carried out, make Russia in her darkest days under the Czar or under Bolshevism, look like a piker.

Our good young Congressman, John L. Cable, now proposes that an American flag be provided for each and every former service man when he dies and that Old Glory cover the casket when it is placed in the tomb.

This sentiment on the part of Congressman Cable is commendable and no one could consistently oppose it, but the suggestion prompts the thought or rather the question if it would not be eminently more fitting and proper if a few flags and flowers were distributed among the former service men while they are still living. It is not unlikely that they would appreciate it.

A right hearty vote of Congress in favor of something of a worthwhile character for the men in token of appreciation for the sacrifices they made for their country would be more appropriate.

There is one organization in Allen-co concerning which very little is being heard in these days of late summer. Reference is made to the Republican county executive committee, which, just one year ago this month, came near needing the services of the fire department when the committee organization took place.

The Gable-Downing organization rode rough-shod over everything and everybody and in late days recommendations for appointments galore were reduced to record. Like an improperly performed vaccination, the recommendations for the most part did not "take."

Wearily from their arduous labors, the committeemen finally rested and as the hot days and humid nights of another summer came, the headquarters in the Holmes block, third floor rear, were closed, the pictures of the Republican notables that grace the walls being permitted to sweeter thru the heated term and accumulate a dust covering that will require a vacuum cleaner this fall.

That man, Charles L. Knight, of Akron, a Congressman, and by the way, a republican, who has been raising Cain about the Fordney tariff and the national lawmaking body is grilling thru, apparently meant what he said when he threatened to get out of Congress.

The statement has been reiterated. He's down on the high protective tariff measure on general principles and in particular for the reason that it gives protection to rubber. That was the straw that broke the camel's back with Knight. He says he will resign if the Fordney measure is passed. He can't stand the odium of it, he says.

In view of the fact that the biggest rubber manufacturing plants in the world are located in Akron, Knight's home town, he believes he is entitled to speak for the industry and be heard, but he won't even give a chance by those who seek to put a tariff duty on rubber and rubber products, notwithstanding the fact the rubber industry hasn't asked for protection and doesn't want it.

A former state official, engaged in another line of endeavor at the present time, traveling out of Columbus, visited Lima during the past week. He is a Democrat. You'll have to know that to appreciate this little story.

His partnership is of a character such as to impel him to seek the keenest delight in stirring up folks who voted last fall for "a change" and who, like the kid that cried for persimmons, didn't want them after he got them.

This particular individual, who never denied that he voted the Democratic ticket last fall, is now getting back at 'em. His friends who twitted him about it a few months ago are singularly silent now. In fact, they don't like to talk about it at all.

"Believe me," said the Columbus man, "I'm getting my revenge now, but the worst of it is that the self-same thing that has put everybody else up against it, got me too. But it's not my fault. I have that consolation."

During the week just closed an attempt was made to conduct an I. W. W. meeting in Lima, but it was a failure. It wasn't necessary for citizens who take no truck in such things to use force in breaking up the meeting. It was accomplished in a new and novel manner.

The speaker, a British subject, had scarcely an opportunity to start. Members of the American Legion and other American citizens who think a lot of Old Glory, broke up the meeting by singing popular songs. The affair was a fizzle, but it was not attended by riotous or disorderly scenes. There was no chance for anything of that sort.

One of the followers of the I. W. W. idea admitted that the meeting was intended for propaganda purposes. America had quite enough of the I. W. W. idea during the war.

And there is no room for it in peace time. A great amount of criticism has been voiced concerning the city administration for permitting the meeting.

Peanut politics and real service to the city on the part of an office holder can not mix well. They are foreign to each other. The example we have just had of the refusal of the chief executive of the city to appoint a high class citizen as safety director, when he offered to serve without salary, is proof of the fact.

The mayor complained that he was unable to secure a man to serve as safety director at the salary offered, and hinted that he would ask council to increase the emolument. But after rejecting the opportunity to get a good man without salary, the request was not made.

When asked to permit administration of the affairs of the safety department without interference, the chief executive balked. At least the offer of free service was not accepted and the head of the city government continued a still hunt.

There is at least one citizen of Ohio who isn't worrying about the inability of the G. O. P. leaders to get together on the appointment of a successor to state prohibition Commissioner J. A. Shearer and that is Shearer himself.

For the very reason that the Republicans can't get the links out of a badly warped situation, Shearer will very likely enjoy an extension of office holding. After getting themselves into a jam over the state "dry" plum, the G. O. P. boys thought they had it all fixed up several times, but new angles developed and the job of pacifying had to be done all over again.

Former Congressman J. Ed Russell is the storm center of this badly mixed contention. Ed wants the job and wants it bad, but the old anti-saloon league doesn't want him to have it and consequently United States Senator Francis Bartlett Willis is "agin" the the Shelby-column.

Hiding themselves away from their native health, former Governor Judson Harmon and W. A. Julian, candidate last fall for United States Senator, against Frank Willis, have departed for a trip abroad, far away from the red-hot political oven.

Former Governor Harmon is side-stepping an almost unanimous demand of Democrats that he stand again as a candidate for chief executive of the state, while Julian, who has no aspirations save but to serve in the United States Senate, will have plenty of time to enjoy his old world visit, for Senator Atlee Pomeroy will be a candidate to succeed himself next year.

If the Bonhomies succeed in their designs of "incubating" the G. O. P. boys will have a nice interesting time of it in digging up a candidate next year who will come anywhere near beating him for Governor.

It is rather interesting to watch the members of the County Auditors' association of Ohio squirm about like a lot of worms on a hot plate, since they have awakened to the fact that a combination of General Assembly and Probate Judge association handed them a nice price package.

The auditors are sore because a new law slipped over in the last session gives the probate judge a fee for collecting the inheritance tax. It is claimed by the auditors that the work for which the probate judges are paid in this connection is done mostly by the auditors. The powerful organization of auditors simply stood astounded when the probate judges kicked a hole in the law which put an end to the fee system.

However, the dies of the judges will likely be short lived, for it is practically assured that the General Assembly, now knowing what a muss it made, will undo it at the first opportunity.

Comine events cast their shadow before. Likewise there is often a method in one's madness. Representative John H. Chester of Paulding-co is a living example of the statement.

Fifty old John refused to be considered as a candidate for the speakership of the House. Said he'd rather be president of the Cornstalk Brigade. Those who couldn't at the time understand why the man from the tall corn county refused an honor that was being thrust upon him, have it all figured out now.

It's just this: John was aiming at bigger game, but he wasn't telling anybody about it. His plans were being quietly laid to make a try for the Governorship. John wants Governor Davis to be a candidate for United States Senator next year, so the way will be cleared for him to make a run for the office of chief executive of the state, without interference from that quarter. In politics, when a man starts for the portofolice on E. Main-st., his real destination may be the picture show on W. Main-st.

Farmers are amazed to note the tenor of an address by D. R. Crissinger, of Marion, comptroller of the currency under the Harding administration, before a convention of the New York State Bankers' association at Atlantic City, in which the American farmers were dubbed as war profiteers, along with Cuban sugar planters.

"American farmers are caught in the wreck of their own super-prosperity, which is the direct result of their profiteering during the war," Crissinger said. "The farmers made money so fast on the high prices that everybody went to speculating in farms, forcing the prices higher, selling and reselling on small payments and discounting the notes which represented deferred payments. So, we see, the profits of the profiteer have disappeared. The farmer cannot meet his bank notes, the banks cannot afford to carry him and both he and the banks are being squeezed. Pretty much everybody is indirectly affected and all of them together stop spending simply because they have nothing to spend."

The present state administration is pledged to rigid economy, it isn't being practiced to a great extent, so far as can be noticed, if surface conditions can be taken as an indication. And after all, that is the best place of discernment.

The many thousands of people of Columbus and others from all parts of the state who occasionally visit that city, will very likely be well pleased to know that the four-flushers on economy isn't to extend to the starvation of the gray squirrels that frisk about the state house lawn and make their home in the trees. Leon C. Herick, director of highways and public works, has decreed that the squirrels must continue to be fed and cared for, even though a horde of state employees be forced to accept a few pennies less salary in order to provide a nut fund. If the state administration wants to "get in Dutch" with the people of Ohio, it can be done by doing away with the state house squirrels.

Twice, you have adopted our recommendations; first in voting for the commission form, and second, in accepting the charter. Now we come again for your support, because after spending three years working for a commission form of government we are vitally interested in seeing a strong commission elected. We urge you for the sake of Lima, to vote for all five men we have endorsed. They are capable, fearless, honest, experienced. By selecting them you continue to register your protest against partisan government. You will vote for men approved by the friends of commission manager government and not for candidates sponsored by its enemies.

BOY BURGLAR IS TRAPPED

Perpetrator of Score of Robberies is Caught

BURGLAR ALARM INEFFECTIVE

Screened Operations as Newspaper Carrier

Apparently attempting to cover his trail by working for Lima newspaper as a carrier boy, proved the undoing of 13-year-old Eugene Funk, 139 S. Pine-st., alleged perpetrator of almost a score of robberies that have been troubling business houses in Lima, it was learned Saturday.

For almost three months, reports of thievery have come to police headquarters in almost a steady stream. It was not discovered until recently who had been responsible for them.

Sums ranging anywhere from a few cents in change up to $18, and totalling nearly a hundred dollars for the entire period, were gleaned by the young burglar as the result of his raids.

In shops where there were things that appealed to his youthful eye, bits of merchandise were taken. Money however, seemed the most tempting article of all. Pennies were never touched by the youth. He was after coins of larger denominations.

QUICK WIT SAVED HIM

Once he was almost at the point of capture, but his quick action permitted him to roam freely among the stores of the city. It was nearly a month ago, after having entered the Tif Tif shop four times in succession, that the burglar alarm, set in an attempt to stop the man who had entered the shop, called A. W. Cantwell, undertaker, next door, who heard the alarm, to the tire shop.

Cantwell pressed a gun against the plate glass window of the shop and ordered the intruder to open the front door. The lad failed, in his attempt to open the door and managed to wriggle away into the dark depths of the room, and escape the man who sought his capture.

The incident was reported to the police and the investigation began. Other reports began to pour in. A fish market on S. Union-st., Huber and Gable's harness shop, Pong and Solter's bicycle shop, the Home Electric company and the New York Provision company, informed police of small robberies committed at their places of business.

Investigation revealed the fact that for a certain period of time, the majority of the robberies were committed in the early evening. Copies of an afternoon newspaper were found around the places robbed. Later it was discovered that the robberies were being committed in the early morning and the copies of a morning newspaper were left.

Further investigation on the part of police resulted in the discovery that a lad by the name of Funk had quit working for an afternoon newspaper and had taken service with a morning newspaper.

Police began watching him. Then one day a report came to headquarters that an empty house at 524 E. Market-st had been entered and some tools stored therein, been stolen. Police believed they could locate the thief at once.

Detective Crismonberry who had been working on the reported cases of petty thievery, was sent out to watch the house. His vigilance resulted in the arrest, Thursday, of Young Funk who is alleged to have confessed to the robbing.

Police turned the youngster over to juvenile authorities, where the case is now being handled. It is believed that a stop has been put, as a result of the arrest, to a majority of the cases of petty thievery in this vicinity.

MEN OF CO. G. WIN HONORS

To Receive Medals as Marksmen—Return From Camp

Company G, 148th Infantry, Ohio National Guard, won its share of honors on the rifle range at Camp Perry during the two weeks spent there in real military life. Twenty-eight out of the 71 officers and men in the organization qualified as expert shots.

The list includes seven expert marksmen, nine sharpshooters and 12 marksmen. Medals are to be awarded the men who qualified. Captain C. A. Dupes, states. A delegation of high ranking officers from Columbus is to visit Lima at an early date and award the medals.

The company, commanded by Captain Dupes and with Lieutenants Clyde L. Custer and R. E. Wilcox, arrived in Lima from Camp Perry Saturday afternoon. The encampment was the most satisfactory in the 12 years Captain Dupes has been a member of the guard, he states.

Under a recent ruling of the War Department, the regiment of which Company G is a member will be known as the 148th, preserving the same designation used during the war. This meets with the approval of the enlisted men, especially the over-seas veterans who served in the famous 37th Division. The entire division is composed of Ohio troops.

Better results were obtained this year, Captain Dupes states, with an entire brigade of infantry in camp.

LONDON.—(Special)—Both London and New York society will be interested in the report that Lady Constance Stewart Richardson has just become the bride of Dennis Luskie Matthews. Lady Richardson, who is the granddaughter of the Duke of Sutherland, is well-known on both continents as an interpretive dancer. She displeased many of her friends and family when she did Greek dances before the nobility of her own country and the society folk of New York bare-legged and in abbreviated costumes.

Lady Richardson is a widow, her husband having been killed while serving as an officer in the world war. She has three children who are being reared in accordance with her peculiar ideas and they play daily naked in the open air.

The bridegroom is a bachelor of great wealth.

ACCUSE BRIDE OF KIDNAPPING GROOM

TENARKANA, Ark.—D. E. F. e Hightower, fourteen-year-old "kidnaped bridegroom," refused to have his love requited. Likewise, he refuses to relinquish his twenty-one-year-old bride-of-a-day despite an ultimatum pronouncements of a court. Following an alleged attempt at suicide, because his parents objected to his choice, the boy went to the home of Bertha Gaines. They were married. The bride was taken into custody, charged with kidnapping and enticement of a minor. Date for her trial has not been set.

"I have absolutely nothing to say," declared Miss Gaines today. "My picture? Well, of all the nerve. I should say not."

"It's a dirty shame" for the newspapers to print things about my marriage," she declared, with violent indignation.

That the marriage is illegal is confirmed by County Attorney Henry. The "kidnaped bridegroom" is held in restraint by his parents, pending his promise to go back to school and forget his "insane love."

FUTURE HUSBANDS WILL SEW, COOK

Prominent Suffrage Leader Predicts Change

MEN LEARNING NEW WORK

Women Have Taken Up Many New Professions

(By E. K. REYNOLDS.)

WASHINGTON.—(International News Service).—"There is no reason why a man can't learn to sew, knit, darn and cook, if women have learned to practice law, medicine and other professions hitherto monopolized by men," says Mrs. Edna L. Johnston, prominent suffrage leader and welfare worker, who believes that the husband of the future will be a model seamstress and housekeeper, in addition to holding a regular job.

Mrs. Johnston, who was Congressional chairman of the Equal Suffrage Association of New Hampshire and was manager of the first United States Employment Office opened in New York City during the war, holds that accomplishment is not a matter of sex, nor dependent upon it, but a matter of qualifications regardless of sex. She pictures the future husband as making the baby's clothes, cooking, washing, ironing and doing the family mending right along with his wife.

"The men surely do not want to let the women get ahead of them in the matter of accomplishments," Mrs. Johnston suggests, "and if they assume the attitude of the average man that they should stick to what has been hitherto considered man's work, while the women go ahead and learn their's too, that would surely happen."

"But I am happy to say that this is not happening. The men are learning the domestic arts. Not infrequently do we hear of men designers, cooks, etc., and they are doing this in addition to their regular men's work."

MAN OPENS NEGATIVE

Mrs. Johnston pointed to the fact that one man, Charles P. Champlin, of Chicago, went into a bread baking contest with forty-five women at the Evanston (Ill.) County Fair and carried away the first prize, while nearly every town has its firemen who are accomplished in the arts of knitting or embroidery.

"The division of work into masculine and feminine is a matter of tradition," the suffrage leader continued. "Because men have always been engineers or electricians and women mothers, stenographers or housekeepers, some still think the division of work should be sustained. Why continue this foolish custom?"

"It is the medical opinion that if women have pronounced positive qualities and men negatives, it not infrequently happens that their talents and qualifications are reversed."

despite the traditional division of work. "Thus we have women lawyers, women politicians, women bankers and men artists, sculptors, designers, and so on down the list. And sometimes one hears of a woman stevedore, and the like. During the war many women took up these occupations, as a patriotic service, I realize, of course. "In some marriages the woman is the man of the house, it has been said. She is the positive and responsible person, and the man is the negative and dependent. "In a certain court case, in fact, the wife was adjudicated to be the man of the family because she was proven to be the head of the house. And the child, a boy, about whose custody a legal contest arose, was given over to the custody of the mother."

Panama Waterway Proves Valuable To Ship Owners

BARELY PAYS EXPENSES

New York-San Francisco Trip Is 32 Days Shorter

By HARRY L. ROGERS
Washington.—(International News Service).—The interchange of some of the largest battleships in the American Navy between the Atlantic and Pacific fleets thru the Panama Canal shows that the big waterway is functioning along the lines laid down for it when the United States undertook the task of constructing a seaway between the two Americas.

When the work of building the Canal was undertaken, no one dreamed what a tremendous amount of material would have to be moved to make it a usable waterway such as it is to-day.

At that time it was figured that the total excavation for the Canal proper would be 101,000,000 cubic yards. But by reason of enlargements and slides the task continued to grow until approximately a quarter of a billion cubic yards of material had to be removed. The rail distance from Union Station, Washington, D. C., to the Pennsylvania Terminal, New York, is approximately 228 miles. Instead of the railroad, a canal with vertical banks, 45 feet deep and 124 feet wide—deep and wide enough to accommodate the biggest ships afloat and connecting the nation's metropolis with the country's capital—and you will have a picture of the amount of material that had to be removed to make the great isthmian waterway a completed project.

Nor does this comparison include either the excavations by the French or those of the Americans for the auxiliary port works, coaling stations, etc.

The total spoils which had to be removed to unite the seas, divide the continents and shorten the sea lanes of the world at Panama were equal in volume, it has been estimated, to more than one hundred pyramids of the dimensions of Cheops; two such pyramids for every mile of the big waterway from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

The saving effected by ships using the Canal has more than justified the hopes of the Government in undertaking its construction. In pre-war days the cost of maintaining a freighter in commission was approximately ten cents per net registered ton per day. Thus a 10,000-ton steamer cost for maintenance about $1,000 per day. Its average speed was around 25 knots a day. On the trip from New York to San Francisco there is a saving of thirty-two days because of the canal. With such a ship this extra distance would cost on the basis of pre-war prices, $32,000. On the basis of present prices it would cost about $50,000. The vessel by using the canal in pre-war days, paying $1.20 per net registered ton, saved its owners or charterers $21,000.

On the basis of present-day prices the saving amounts to nearly $40,000. If, as is now planned, the coastwise shipping using the canal is exempted from the payment of tolls a 10,000 ton steamer will save $12,000 every time it passes through the canal in tolls and at least $38,000 in distance eliminated.

While it looks rather high to think of a 18,762-ton ship paying $18,000 for an eight-hour trip thru the canal, yet to choose that route between the East and West coasts of the United States rather than the Magellan route would save upward of $52,000 on the trip.

HARDLY PAYS FOR OPERATION
Another interesting feature of the toll rates at Panama is the comparatively low rates at which cargo moves through the canal. A net registered ton in shipping practice is 100 cubic feet of cargo space. Now it happens that most cargo doesn't require much room and that for some commodities three tons can be put in

SINN FEIN LEADER IS "CHAIRIED" BY IRISH ADHERENTS IN LONDON

Arthur Griffith, indicated by arrow, being "chairied" by Sinn Feiners outside St. George's cathedral riding Griffith on a chair and cheering him outside St. George's cathedral after he had attended mass there early in the peace negotiations.

Each appearance of President de Valera of the Sinn Fein, Arthur Griffith, founder of the organization, and their associates in London during the recent peace parleys was marked by an enthusiastic gathering of Irish sympathizers in the capital. The photo above shows a huge crowd each net register to space. For instance, cotton takes much more room than nitrates. A cargo of the latter has moved through the canal for thirty-seven cents a ton, while a cargo of lumber might cost a dollar a ton. The average rate for bulk cargoes ranges around sixty-seven cents a long ton. The present income from the canal is barely sufficient to pay the more costs of operation, with no allowance whatever for depreciation or interest on the investment. As the canal cost $367,000,000 and as the Government has to pay at least 5 per cent for money borrowed today, it will be seen that interest charges alone would amount to $18,000,000 a year.

In other words, if Uncle Sam operated his canal on the basis that the railway companies operate, their roads he would have to make a rate of about $2 a net registered ton instead of $1.20.

With the tremendous decline in ocean freight rates in the past two years and the large increase in transcontinental railroad rates the competition of the canal using steamships lines for transcontinental freight has hit the railroads a very hard blow. Much tonnage that in pre-war days moved from seaboard to seaboard by rail is now going by sea, with the result that hundreds of freight trains have been discontinued.

DEFIANCE, O.—A surgical operation at the expense of Deftance-o is the unique sentence imposed upon twelve-year-old Willie Hausor, of Hicksville, by Probate Judge C. W. Palmer.

When the lad was accused of stealing an auto the judge, before deciding upon the nature of the corrective measures to be applied in the case, called in a physician.

The doctor informed the judge that abnormal tonsils and large adenoid growths had retarded the boy's physical and mental development.

Willie is now at his home in Hicksville under probation.

The court will await the effect of the operation on the youngster's character before taking further action.

ZEIGFELD FIGHTS BATHING SUITS

Modern Fashion Spoils Color Scheme For Follies

By K. M. ELISH.
NEW YORK.—(International News Service).—This business of low-cut bathing suits has Flo Zeigfeld on the run.

The eminent impresario of the famous Follies disapproves most heartily of the latest modes in beach wear, which send a young girl out on the sand with her tender skin practically unprotected against the burning rays of the summer sun. He thinks it's wrong.

"Zeigzy," for once in his career, is in accord with the reformers. They are protesting against the two-ample display of the uncovered female body. So is he—when the display takes place on the beach.

For, be it understood, Mr. Zeigfeld's objections proceed from no moral ground. Pray don't take this to mean that the gentleman in question does not believe in morals. He does, but his ideas on morality are a trifle different from those of Dr. Wilbur Crafts or the Rev. George Bowdly.

"Zeigzy's" objections are purely practical. Low-cut bathing suits and bare legs interfere seriously with the color scheme evolved by Joseph Urban for the latest Follies. The girls go down to Long Beach and Southampton over the week-end, acquire a healthy coat of tan and come back with their necks, shoulders and other portions of their anatomy the best in off-color.

And so, when they appear on the stage to regale the eyes of New York's "men about town"—and there are plenty of girls in the audience, too—they present a spectacle that sometimes brings out smiles.

A peachy-and-cream complexion, a dimpled cupid's-bow of a mouth, a level head of bobbed hair, a costume carefully designed to give the wearer a chance to show that the excellence of her complexion is not confined to her face alone but extends to her shoulders, neck and arms. And then, oh, horrors, a heavily-tanned neck and shoulders, with the thinnest of white stripes marking the position of the shoulder straps! Do you wonder that Flo Zeigfeld is willing, for this once, to align himself with the reformers? "It's tough," moaned "Zeigzy," when the subject was broached. "It wouldn't be so bad if only their faces

Lou Tellegen Demands Divorce
When Barred From Home

LOVE TANGLE TO BE AIRED

Sensational Charges Expected to be Filed This Week

NEW YORK — The wreckage of a great theatrical love affair will be muddled over in a court next week when Lou Tellegen files charges against his brilliant consort, Gertrude Farrar, Tellegen's lawyers declared Saturday.

Tellegen, victor in a race to the courts, made no attempt Saturday to break thru the barred doors of the apartment which he had shared here with Miss Farrar. He remained in his room at the Ritz hotel, refusing to answer his telephone or admit visitors.

Miss Farrar was said to be away from her apartment but no one would say where she had gone. Meanwhile two sets of attorneys were preparing for the court proceedings which are expected to legally separate the couple.

DESERPTION CHARGE
Tellegen's counsel, Harry N. Steinfeld, said the actor's wife had been summoned to court on a charge of desertion.

"But," he said, "a complaint will be filed in West Chester-oh within a few days. It will be very interesting. Other grounds for divorce will be named."

Miss Farrar's attorneys refused to make predictions or to indicate their plan of campaign. Alvin Untermyer, chief counsel, admitted his client had prepared a separation action but denied that Tellegen had succeeded in serving her with a summons in the action brought for himself.

"This disgraceful and fraudulent action justified my client in having nothing more to do with him," Untermyer said.

HARBED BY WIFE
The first action on Miss Farrar's part was a letter to her husband saying that his clothing and personal belongings would be sent to him if he would say where he wanted them delivered. Tellegen was warned not to attempt to enter her house, but disregarded the injunction.

When he attempted to enter the apartment he found it locked with a new mechanism which his keys could not operate. He then took up his residence at a hotel and met his wife's threat by filing suit of his own.

Miss Farrar, in statements before and after her marriage, was said to have given the key to the difficulties which beset her married life. Before 1916, when she married the handsome actor, she had asserted that she would never marry, declaring one could not have happiness in marriage and a career at the same time.

Later she reiterated those views in her writings. Nevertheless, she stoutly maintained in public that her own marriage was a success.

AUTO LAW BLANKS ARE READY

Statement of Ownership Must be Filed With County Clerk

Blanks for filling out sworn statements of ownership of automobiles, motor trucks, motorcycles and other motor vehicles have been received by J. T. Cotter, county clerk of courts, and may be secured at that office any time.

The act requiring filing of such statements was passed by the last General Assembly and is known as Amended Senate bill No. 3. It becomes effective August 17. Object of the law is to prevent traffic in stolen cars.

In event of sale or change of ownership of car, the seller is required to give a bill of sale, which is filed in the office of the clerk.

All persons owning motor vehicles on or after August 17 are required to file one of these statements. The fee, probably slightly less than 50 cents, is required by the office of filing, according to the law.

The copies are made in duplicate. One is filed and the owner carries the other copy, in case he is at any time detained or questioned as to compliance with the law. Penalty for failure to carry out the provisions of the law may be met with a fine of from $25 to $300.

TEN MILLIONS OFFERED FOR SHIPS THAT COST THE U. S. $240,000,000

WASHINGTON — (Special) — Chairman A. D. Lasker of the U. S. shipping board has received an offer of $10,000,000 for the wooden ships built by the shipping board during the war at an expense of $240,000,000.

If he does not receive a better bid he will doubtless accept this, as he announced recently that the entire wooden fleet would be sold, scrapped or sunk before next October.

To maintain the idle wooden ships costs the government many thousands of dollars per month. Chairman Lasker states that while original cost was $240,000,000, the government's loss on them to date is $113,000,000. He asserts that they can never be of any value to the government. Many of them are rotting in the James river, Virginia. Many others are anchored in Lower Jamaica Bay, N. Y. Dozens more are anchored at western ports.

LIMA WAGE SCALE IS STANDARD

Conditions Here no Worse Than in Other Cities

MANY CRAFTSMEN ARE IDLE

Much Construction Work Awaits Easier Capital

Not more than 15 per cent of the members of building trades crafts in Lima are now employed, according to William E. Barger, 211 1-2 S. Union-st, secretary of the Lima Building Trades council. Wages paid, he states, are slightly less than a year ago. The electrical workers have a larger number of members employed than other organizations, it was stated.

According to Barger, conditions in the building trades in the city are in worse shape than in any other in any other line. There is plenty of work waiting to be done, but contractors and builders cannot obtain the necessary finances to go ahead, save at high rates of interest. Money must be cheaper, before a boom can be inaugurated, it is asserted.

CONDITIONS ARE GENERAL
Such conditions prevail all over the country, according to Barger. Information obtained from secretaries of trades councils as far west as Boise, Idaho, and east to New York, reflects the same condition as exist in Lima. Conditions here are no worse, and perhaps some better than elsewhere.

The scale of wages in Lima compares well with that paid in some other cities, but is not so high as the Chicago scale. Wages now being paid in the various allied crafts are: Carpenters 70 cents, as against 85 cents a year ago. Electricians, 75 cents; plumbers, 85 cents, against former wages of $1; painters, 70 cents, former scale 75; plasterers 70 cents; brickmasons, $1.10; hoisting engineers 90 cents, the Toledo scale.

Laborers employed by the Farley Contracting company on the Collett sewer, are drawing 40 to 50 cents per hour. Bricklayers working for the same concern are getting the Chicago scale of $1.25 an hour, according to Barger.

LIMA PEOPLE ELECTED

The Man Without a Good Watch

By J. W. Puetz

In character, the man without a good watch is just one rung up the ladder from the fellow without any kind of a watch. The former has sufficient pride to pretend, while the latter brazenly acknowledges his carelessness.

In practicability, however, the man with a poor watch is in the worse condition of the two; for the timepiece of erratic tendencies will direct him wrong. It will make him miss a train, be late at an important appointment, in other words, it will reduce him to a state of perpetual uncertainty.

There is no excuse whatever for the man who owns an inaccurate watch, for it is a matter of true economy to buy a reliable watch from a responsible dealer.

The latter is as eager to give satisfaction as you are anxious to purchase an accurate time piece. His reputation is at stake and that is worth more to him than unmerited profits. Finishing touches will be applied during the coming week on the repair of W. Market-st, between the public square and Elizabeth-st.

A light coating of tar will be applied to the surface and filled with powdered stone, sealing the macadam.

According to Superintendent of Streets Claude Zarman, the resurfacing of N. Main-st will be continued from the Pennsylvania railroad to the intersection of Murphy-st or Grand-ave. The experiment in street repair on this section of Main-st seems to be working satisfactorily. The work is done at expense of the city.

Two repair jobs to be paid by the county remain to be done this season, Superintendent Zarman declared. The streets are E. High and Cos.

Because of the non-arrival of Kentucky rock asphalt, ordered by the county commissioners the work is being held up. Very little more repair work will be attempted by the city, Zarman claims, until the amount of automobile license tax to be received by the city has been announced. The money will be available about August 15.

MONEY SAVED BY CANAL ROUTE

New York-San Francisco Trip Is 32 Days Shorter

By HARRY L. ROGERS
Washington.—(International News Service).—The interchange of some of the largest battleships in the American Navy between the Atlantic and Pacific fleets thru the Panama Canal shows that the big waterway is functioning along the lines laid down for it when the United States undertook the task of constructing a seaway between the two Americas.

When the work of building the Canal was undertaken, no one dreamed what a tremendous amount of material would have to be moved to make it a usable waterway such as it is today.

At that time it was figured that the total excavation for the Canal proper would be 101,000,000 cubic yards. But by reason of enlargements and slides the task continued to grow until approximately a quarter of a billion cubic yards of material had to be removed. The rail distance from Union Station, Washington, D. C., to the Pennsylvania Terminal, New York, is approximately 228 miles. Instead of the railroad, a canal with vertical banks, 45 feet deep and 124 feet wide—deep and wide enough to accommodate the biggest ships afloat and connecting the nation's metropolis with the country's capital—and will have a picture of the amount of material that had to be removed to make the great isthmian waterway a completed project.

Nor does this comparison include either the excavations by the French or those of the Americans for the auxiliary port works, coaling stations, etc.

The total spoils which had to be removed to unite the seas, divide the continents and shorten the sea lanes of the world at Panama were equal in volume, it has been estimated, to more than one hundred pyramids of the dimensions of Cheops; two such pyramids for every mile of the big waterway from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

The saving effected by ships using the Canal has more than justified the hopes of the Government in undertaking its construction. In pre-war days the cost of maintaining a freighter in commission was approximately ten cents per net registered ton per day. Thus a 10,000-ton steamship cost for maintenance about $1,000 per day. Its average speed was around 250 knots a day. On the trip from New York to San Francisco there is a saving of thirty-two days because of the canal. With such a ship this extra distance would cost on the basis of pre-war prices, $32,000. On the basis of present prices it would cost about $50,000. The vessel by using the canal in pre-war days, paying $1.20 per net registered ton, saved its owners or charterers $21,000.

On the basis of present-day prices the saving amounts to nearly $40,000. If, as is now planned, the coastwise shipping using the canal is exempted from the payment of tolls a 10,000-ton steamer will save $12,000 every time it passes through the canal in tolls and at least $38,000 in distance eliminated.

While it looks rather high to think of a 15,752-ton ship paying $18,000 for an eight-hour trip thru the canal, yet to choose that route between the East and West coasts of the United States rather than the Magellan route would save upward of $52,000 on the trip.

HARDLY PAYS FOR OPERATION

Another interesting feature of the toll rates at Panama is the comparatively low rates at which cargo moves through the canal. A net registered ton in shipping practice is 100 cubic feet of cargo space. Now it happens that most cargo doesn't require much room and that for some commodities three tons can be put in

ZEIGFELD FIGHTS BATHING SUITS

By K. M. ELISH.

NEW YORK.—(International News Service).—This business of low-cut bathing suits has Flo Zeigfeld on the run.

The eminent impresario of the famous Follies disapproves most heartily of the latest modes in beach wear, which send a young girl out on the sand with her tender skin practically unprotected against the burning rays of the summer sun. He thinks it's wrong.

"Ziggy," for once in his career, is in accord with the reformers. They are protesting against the two-ample display of the uncovered female body. So is he—when the display takes place on the beach.

For, be it understood, Mr. Zeigfeld's objections proceed from no moral ground. Pray don't take this to mean that the gentleman in question does not believe in morals. He does, but his ideas on morality are a trifle different from those of Dr. Wilbur Crafts or the Rev. George Bowdoy.

"Ziggy's" objections are purely practical. Low-cut bathing suits and bare legs interfere seriously with the color scheme evolved by Joseph Urban for the latest Follies. The girls go down to Long Beach and Southampton over the weekend, acquire a healthy coat of tan and come back with their necks, shoulders and other portions of their anatomy the best in coffin color.

And so, when they appear on the stage to regale the eyes of New York's "men about town"—and there are plenty of girls in the audience, too—they present a spectacle that sometimes brings out smiles.

A peaches-and-cream complexion, a dimpled Cupid's-bow of a mouth, a lovely head of bobbed hair, a costume carefully designed to give the wearer a chance to show that the excellence of her complexion is not confined to her face alone but extends to her shoulders, neck and arms. And then, oh, horrors, a heavily-tanned neck and shoulders, with the thinnest of white stripes marking the position of the shoulder straps! Do you wonder that Flo Zeigfeld is willing, for this once, to align himself with the reformers? "It's tough," moaned "Ziggy," when the subject was broached. "It wouldn't be so bad if only their faces got tanned—grease paint could take care of that. But when they get tanned all over, what, I ask you, is the use of having Joseph Urban to cook up a swell color scheme and spending a mint of money for costumes when the girls are all olive drab and don't harmonize? There should be a law against these low-cut bathing suits.

Independence from Drudgery

THROUGH the magical power of electric service a new independence has dawned for the women of America. Like the fabled Aladdin, she now summons the Genie, Electricity, to do her bidding. As quickly, silently and economically as the genie of old, this modern power performs every household task.

What changes since the tallow dip lighted the candle of our first liberty! Since Franklin flew his kite, what summer comforts have become commonplace through the electric fan! Stoves were looked on with awe and distrust during the childhood of our nation—today Electric Ranges are wanted faster than they can be produced.

The Modern Genie, applying his power through electricity has brought freedom to the women of our homes, freedom from the yoke of sweeping, washing, sewing, ironing and cooking.

Have you joined the legion of free women? Are you realizing the new independence which can be yours through the complete use of electricity?

If you have any doubt as to how this new freedom can be secured, ask us.

Mr. Tellegen Demands Divorce When Barred From Home

Sensational Charges Expected to be Filed This Week

NEW YORK — The wreckage of great theatrical love affairs will be averted over in a court next week when Lou Tellegen files charges against his brilliant consort, Gertrude Farrar, Tellegen's lawyers declared Saturday.

Tellegen, victor in a race to the courts, made no attempt Saturday to break thru the barred doors of his apartment which he had shared here with Miss Farrar. He remained in his room at the Ritz hotel, refusing to answer his telephone or admit visitors.

Miss Farrar was said to be away from her apartment but no one could say where she had gone. Meanwhile two sets of attorneys were preparing for the court proceedings which are expected to legally separate the couple.

DESTRUCTION CHARGE
Tellegen's counsel, Harry N. Steinfeld, said the actor's wife had been summoned to court on a charge of destruction.

"But," he said, "a complaint will be filed in West Chester-oo within a few days. It will be very interesting. Other grounds for divorce will be named."

Miss Farrar's attorneys refused to make predictions or to indicate their plan of campaign. Alvin Untermyer, chief counsel, admitted his client had prepared a separation action but denied that Tellegen had succeeded in serving her with a summons in the action brought for himself.

"This disgraceful and fraudulent action justified my client in having nothing more to do with him," Untermyer said.

SARRED BY WIFE

The first action on Miss Farrar's part was a letter to her husband aving that his clothing and personal belongings would be sent to him if he would say where he wanted them delivered. Tellegen was warned not to attempt to enter her house, out disregarded the injunction. When he attempted to enter his apartment he found it locked with a new mechanism which his keys could not operate. He then took up his residence at a hotel and set his wife's threat by filing suit of his own.

Miss Farrar, in statements before and after her marriage, was said to have given the key to the difficulties which beset her married life. Before 1916, when she married the handsome actor, she had asserted that she would never marry, declaring she could not have happiness in marriage and a career at the same time.

Later she reiterated those views in writings. Nevertheless, she stoutly maintained in public that her own marriage was a success.

AUTO LAW BLANKS ARE READY

Statement of Ownership Must be Filed With County Clerk

Blanks for filling out sworn statements of ownership of automobiles, motor trucks, motorcycles and other motor vehicles have been received by J. T. Cotner, county clerk of courts, and may be secured at that office any time.

The act requiring filing of such statements was passed by the last General Assembly and is known as Amended Senate bill No. 3. It becomes effective August 17. Object of the law is to prevent traffic in stolen cars.

In event of sale or change of ownership of car, seller is required to give a bill of sale, which is filed in the office of the clerk.

All persons owning motor vehicles on or after August 17 are required to file one of these statements. A fee, probably slightly less than 50 cents, is required by the office of filing, according to the law. The copies are made in duplicate. One is filed and the owner carries the other copy, in case he is at any time detained or questioned as to compliance with the law. Penalty for failure to carry out the provisions of the law may be met with a fine of from $25 to $300.

WASHINGTON — (Special)

Chairman A. D. Lasker of the U. S. shipping board has received an offer of $10,000,000 for the wooden ships built by the shipping board during the war at an expense of $240,000,000.

To maintain the idle wooden ships costs the government many thousands of dollars per month. Chairman Lasker states that while original cost was $240,000,000, the government's loss on them to date is $13,000,000. He asserts that they can never be of any value to the government. Many of them are rotting in the James river, Virginia. Many others are anchored in Lower Jamaica Bay, N. Y. Dozens more are anchored at western ports.

FATHER OF CHIEF ROUSH DIES

Stricken by Paralysis, Death Comes Quickly

John K. Roush, 69, retired Bath-up farmer and father of Chief of Police Oscar J. Roush, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Pierce Cahill, 560 Brice-av, Saturday evening. Death followed a stroke of paralysis, which he suffered at 6:30 o'clock. He died in less than 15 minutes.

With H. H. Roush, his brother, he was sitting on the porch at his daughter's home at noon and was cheerful and apparently as well as usual. He had not been in good health for some months.

For the past 10 months Roush had resided in Lima with his children. Surviving besides Chief Roush, and the daughter at whose home he died, are Mrs. Garry Franklin, 511 Ewing-av and Mrs. Florence Benedict, 508 N. Collett-st.

There are two step-daughters, Mrs. Henry Ruhlén, Bath-up and Mrs. Matthew Ruhlén, 614 N. Elizabeth-st. H. H. Roush, Bath-up and Edward Roush, E. Findlay-st, are surviving brothers.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Cahill. The Rev. A. H. Pfeiffer, pastor of Zion Lutheran church will officiate. Interment will be at Wood-lawn.

OPEN SEASON FOR SQUIRREL IS FROM SEPT. 15 TO OCT. 20

The office of the county clerk and the clerks of the various townships will soon be besieged by hunters, intent upon obtaining licenses granting them permission to hunt the elusive squirrel, the frisky little denizen of the woodland, whose numbers grow less and less as the forests are disappearing and activities of hunters continue.

Men in Allen-co. who take advantage of the open season for squirrels, report that few are being seen this year and that many who will hunt them later will be disappointed. The open season for squirrels is from September 15 to October 20, both inclusive.

Each hunter, in the prescribed season, may take in one day and have in his possession at one time not more than five squirrels. Sale is prohibited. Squirrels, whether taken within or without the state of Ohio, shall not be bought or sold at any time, under the law. Each squirrel taken or had in possession, contrary to the provisions of the law, will constitute a separate offense.

A. C. Baxter, chief of the fish and game division, issued the above information, for the purpose of clearing up uncertainty as to the provisions of the law and for the purpose of answering many inquiries received.

The Man Without a Good Watch

By J. W. Puetz

In character, the man without a good watch is just one rung up the ladder from the fellow without any kind of a watch. The former has sufficient pride to pretend; while the latter brazenly acknowledges his carelessness.

In practicality, however, the man with a poor watch is in the worse condition of the two. For the timepiece of erratic tendencies will direct him wrong. It will make him miss a train, be late at an important appointment; in other words, it will reduce him to a state of perpetual uncertainty.

There is no excuse whatever for the man who owns an inaccurate watch, for it is a matter of true economy to buy a reliable watch from a responsible dealer.

The latter is as eager to give satisfaction as you are anxious to purchase an accurate time piece. His reputation is at stake and that is worth more to him than unmerited profits. Patronize the jeweler who can see over the edge of the cash drawer; he who realizes that while it is a fine thing to make money it is a lot finer to make loyal friends at the same time.

LIMA WAGE SCALE IS STANDARD

Much Construction Work Awaits Easier Capital

Not more than 15 per cent of the members of building trades crafts in Lima are now employed, according to William E. Barger, 211 1-2 S. Union-st, secretary of the Lima Building Trades council. Wages paid, he states, are slightly less than a year ago. The electrical workers have a larger number of members employed than other organizations, it was stated.

According to Barger, conditions in the building trades in the city are in worse shape than in any other in any other line. There is plenty of work waiting to be done, but contractors and builders cannot obtain the necessary finances to go ahead, save at high rates of interest. Money must be cheaper, before a boom can be inaugurated, it is asserted.

CONDITIONS ARE GENERAL

Such conditions prevail all over the country, according to Barger. Information obtained from secretaries of trades councils as far west as Boise, Idaho, and east to New York, recite the same condition as exist in Lima. Conditions here are no worse, and perhaps some better than elsewhere.

The scale of wages in Lima compares well with that paid in some other cities, but is not so high as the Chicago scale. Wages now being paid in the various allied crafts are:

Carpenters 70 cents, as against 85 cents a year ago. Electricians, 75 cents; plumbers, 85 cents, against former wages of $1.10 painters, 70 cents, former scale, 75; plasterers 70 cents; brickmasons, $1.10; holding engineers 90 cents, the Toledo scale.

Laborers employed by the Farley Contracting company on the Collett-sewer, are drawing 40 to 60 cents per hour. Bricklayers working for the same concern are getting the Chicago scale of $1.25 an hour, according to Barger.

SEES NO DANGER OF WARFARE

Native Missionary Here From Japan, Is Optimistic

FOSTER MOTHER IS AMERICAN

Christianity Making Good Progress Among Japs

Japan does not want a breach with the United States government, according to Miss May Russell, native Japanese, who is in the United States in the interest of missionary work. While in the city Miss Russell is stopping at the home of Mrs. William Parrott, 133 S. West-st.

"Most of the discussion which has arisen is due largely to gossip," Miss Russell said. "I do not think the feeling against Japan and Japanese has been as strong in America this year as last, but I do know there is no occasion for it. The militarists keep it going; the civil contingent scarcely know there is such a thing. Of course, if the worst came, it is probable part of the people of Japan would sympathize with England and part with the United States. There is great feeling in Japan for both the United States and England. But I do not believe the Nippon government will ever allow a breach to come with the United States, if it can honestly do anything to prevent it. Newspapers there suppress any reference to it," the missionary said.

ADOPTED BY MISSIONARY

Miss Russell is greatly interested in her work. When three days old, her Japanese parents permitted her adoption by Miss Elizabeth Russell, for 42 years a Methodist missionary in Japan. Miss Russell took the little Japanese girl as her own and has cared for her since. The girl never knew anything but mission work. She says she feels at most as if Miss Russell's relatives are her relatives.

Her foster mother, the aged missionary, is now 85. Miss Russell says she will spend her days caring for her foster parent and when death shall at last take Miss Russell from her, she will return peacefully to Nagasaki, Japan, to teach in the Methodist mission schools there.

That is why the missionary's name is very much American—she adopted the name of her foster mother.

Miss Russell declares that in Japan the people are eager for better education. She says the government provides that before entrance to high schools, examination must be taken and that only those who secure high grades are eligible. Many are every year turned away.

"If we could only care for these young people when they come to us, what a great opportunity could be accomplished for the Christian religion," the missionary said. "Out of about 500 who came to us for entrance to high schools while I was there, only a small per cent. were admitted. The course consists of five years and by that time the boys and girls may learn a great deal about Christianity." Miss Russell said.

She says the Japanese believe in Christ, but also believe that the religion is for the white man and not for the Japs. "We have Buddha," they say. "Let the white man or foreigner have his god."

There is not the superstition about the Christian religion in that oriental country there was even ten years ago, according to the views as set forth by Miss Russell.

GIRLS SLAIN, IS BELIEF

"Why, when my foster mother first went to Japan as a missionary, the story went around that Japanese girls must stay away from the mission schools; that, if they went there, the white woman would fatten them and send them back to the United States to be slain for medicine for the white people."

But all that time is now past, the missionary asserts, and the people are more and more embracing Christianity. Out of 55 millions of people which Japan claims for its population, about 300,000 are Christians, Miss Russell claims. She avers this is a small percentage. However, she says about 89 per cent of their population can read and write.

Miss Russell declares that high prices in Japan caused by the world war affected the country the same as it did here. She says that a piece of silk which cost $10 before the war, now commands $30. Money is counted by the yen, which represents a value of 50 cents in American money. She declares, however, the people have little industrial depression there, although the most of them live very modestly. Most of the poorer people have large families, which, the missionary declares, militates against their success in life. Miss Russell was graduated from Ohio Wesleyan university at Delaware. She afterward returned to Japan, where she engaged in teaching in the mission schools. She is 33 and with the exception of her eyes it would be almost impossible to tell her from the average American young woman.

She will return to Delaware from Lima, where her foster mother now resides. Both the mother and Miss Russell may return to Lima for the branch meeting of the Foreign Missionary society of Methodist churches of Lima district, which will be held here in October.

Miss Russell was the speaker at the monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary society of Trinity church held at the church parlors Wednesday.

PARTISAN FIGHT WARMING UP

Contests For Township and School Board Places, Tuesday

While presumably party lines have been ruled out of the city commissioner race, don't think for one minute that the G. O. P. and Democratic parties are not going to take a hand in the primary, Tuesday.

Remember that both parties have candidates up for township offices, although there are to be but a few out and out contests.

With no blankets designed by any charter committee to hamper their movements, the candidates for constables, assessor, school board and justice of the peace are going to give some life to the primary in the next two days.

They will furnish the only real evidence that a regular primary is being pulled off.

The three candidates for constable on the G. O. P. ballot and the two on the Democratic ticket, have all been doing some gumshoeing to line up their constituents.

Justice of the Peace William H. Guyton, appointed to succeed Judge J. H. Hamilton, is out for nomination. He is opposed by Allen D. Ellett. Neil Poling, Democrat is unopposed for the democratic nomination for Justice of the Peace.

The predicted battle on the Republican ticket for nomination of members of the school board has failed to materialize. Four men are running for three places on the G. O. P. ticket. The democrats have no one up. Voters of the party, may, however, remedy this deficiency by writing in the name of whoever they wish. This also applies to all other offices. The Democrats have candidates out for assessor in all six wards. The Republicans have entrants in the fourth, fifth and six wards. Lima and Delphos are the only places in the county to hold a primary. Both parties have tickets in the field at the latter place and according to reports, considerable activity is being displayed. There are contests on most of the city offices.

S. C. BIDDLE TO SPEAK AT PARK UNION MEETING

S. C. Biddle, industrial secretary of the Y. M. C. A., will lead a song service and deliver an address at Fairport park Sunday afternoon at four o'clock. The ministerial association has been conducting services at the park on Sunday afternoons. Results thus far as to attendance and interest have been most gratifying.

CHIEF FAILS IN SEARCH FOR FORMER SERVICE MEN TO DO LEGION M. P. DUTY

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Charles E. Edwards, chief of police of Kansas City, faces a stupendous task. The chief has gone on recruiting duty in an effort to organize a battalion of M. P.'s to aid the local police force in patrolling the city properly during the American Legion Convention early this fall.

Chief Edwards first called on local legion officials and obtained their sanction to his plan of securing former service men of the A. E. F. to act as M. P.'s. The chief ventured forth with a legion roster tucked safely in his pocket. How obstacles, although he spared no pains to plunge into details connected with the honor of serving on M. P. duty, he could not find any former veterans who would admit that they had ever worn the "M. P." shield on their arms or ever swung a baton. Each veteran the chief talked to waxed forensic over his experiences and "days I lay in the guard house just because of some 'd—' M. P., but none felt qualified to accommodate the chief. "It's the scottish silt 'you can find,'" Chief Edwards urged. "You will have advance information of all the out-of-bound places in the city. No details and plenty of show," but the local veterans shook their heads. Chief Edwards went back to Legion Headquarters thoroughly disgusted. He informed the legion officials that he would draft a force of M. P.'s if he had to use the war veterans on the police force.

Chief Edwards has forwarded a requisition to army supply depots in the east for M. P. batons and is going fight ahead with his plans to secure his proposed convention M. P. force.

Tires Cost Half What They Used To --Mile for Mile--

THAT'S a pleasant fact to remember. Since 1915 Miller experts have more than doubled their average tire mileage—and cut the cost per mile in two.

Hundreds of methods for adding mileage are tested. Twice a year, on the average, some new great improvement is accomplished. The laboratory expense—for research work—is $5000.00 monthly.

Men came to Miller Tires slowly. But one by one users found them out. Then the demand came like a flood. In the past five years the demand for Millers has multiplied 20-fold. It has doubled in the past twelve months.

You should learn what Millers mean to you. Make a test—a comparison. Do what large users do. Then let the records tell you which tire excels.

SOCIAL PROGRAM FOR WEEK WILL BE VERY QUIET

Only a Few Club Meetings and Informal Affairs are Calendaried—Coon Family Reunion to be Held Sunday
In City Park—Events Planned

(By ROSEMARY CHRISTEN)

AS can readily be seen, the calendar for the coming week is almost void of interest, aside from a few club meetings and just a very few informal social gatherings.

The summer girl's social life is made up almost entirely of motoring, driving and dancing and while the calendar presents an appalling quietude and a surprising scarcity of social functions, it is possible that someone will be kind enough "to come to the rescue" and brighten things up a bit. Several plans are partially made but invitations have not been issued as yet.

The marriage of Miss Florence Luttrell and John Fox will take place Tuesday morning at St. Rose church. A wedding breakfast at the Hotel Argonne will follow the ceremony.

Interest just now at the Y. W. C. A. is in the Central City Conference to be held at the College campus on Lake Geneva, Wis., August 12-22, under the auspices of the National Board of Young Women's Christian associations. Delegates from the local "Y. W." will be Mrs. D. J. Cable, Mrs. Loretta Durbin, Mrs. H. M. Crawford and Miss Gail Parmenter, representing the board of directors; Misses Frances Vogel, Grace and Margaret Fisher, Trotty Veck club; Miss Lula Wale, Toujour Prete club; Mrs. Lulu Voakum, Girls' Club House, and Miss Ruth Seymour, general secretary of the "Y. W."

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Brown, of the Spencerville rd entertained Sunday in honor of their mother, Mrs. Laman Hooks. A basket dinner was served, and a splendid time had by all. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Adam Miller, Marion; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Miller, Van Wert; Mrs. Philip Miller, Rockford; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hoverman and daughter, Martha, Ohio City; Mrs. W. H. Wagner, Marion; Henry Rinzler, Marion; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Overholtz and daughter, Marcella, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Nye and children, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hays and children, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Miller and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Shanks, Philip Hooks and children, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hooks and children, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hooks and son, Mr. F. D. Clifton, Mr. and Mrs. Gale Hooks and children, Lima.

Mrs. Howard McDonald and grand-mother, Mrs. Nellie Schnabel, 3, Scott-st, left Saturday for Cleveland for a ten days' stay with relatives.

Dr. George W. King, W. Springs, is in New Castle, Pa., where he will join Mrs. King and children, Wendolyn and George, Jr., who have been enjoying an extended visit with relatives in Derby, Conn. They will all return to this city, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Creston and children, Donald, Richard and Clara Jean, N. Jameson-ave, leave Sunday for a 10 days' outing at Russell Point.

McCabe Howe and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hughes left Saturday on a motor trip to Washington, D. C., Atlantic City and New York City.

Dr. R. D. Kahle, and Mrs. Allen Kahle Mowen and son, Kenneth, 3, Toledo-st, will leave Sunday for a 10 days' stay at Lakeside. They will join Mrs. Kahle and son, Raymond, who have been located at that popular summer resort for some time.

The marriage of Miss Aileen Tolby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Tolby, W. High-st, to Fred Farr, Detroit, was solemnized Wednesday evening at the New Charleston Hotel, Charleston, S. C. Just a few intimate friends of the couple, and Mrs. Tolby's mother of the bride, were in attendance.

The bride was attractively attired in a dark blue tricot suit with a small hat to match. She wore a corsage of roses and violets.

Mr. Farr and his bride will remain in Charleston for several weeks and during the fall and winter months will tour through the south.

Mrs. Farr was graduated from the Central high school in the class of 1921 and is very well known in this city. Mr. Farr is salesman for the Westcott Motor Car company of Springfield.

As a compliment to Miss Ray Hoffman, bride-elect, Mrs. George Hanna, Wingham, Ontario, house guest of Mrs. W. W. Steeves and Miss Mildred Lewis, Middleport, house guest of Mrs. William R. Roberts, Mrs. C. E. Leach, S. Collett-st, welcomed a small group of friends to her home Sunday for an informal evening. An interesting musical and literary program was enjoyed after which a dainty lunch was served by the hostesses.

Mrs. O. E. Sherrick and daughter, Helen and son, Walter, are the guests of Mrs. Sherrick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Calvert, S. Elizabeth-st.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Andrews and daughter, Blanche Rebecca, and Mrs. Douglas and Lawrence, W. High-st, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Seymour, Tenafly, N. Y. leave this week for an outing at Orchard Island.

Class No. 5, of the First Christian church, will meet Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. George N. Shaffer, 321 N. Scott-st.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Deisel, Jr., W. Market-st, are home from Chicago, where they attended the Pageant of Progress.

Miss Virginia Deaderick returned to Chicago, after enjoying a short visit with Miss Mary K. Roby, W. Market-st.

Frances Willard Union, W. C. T. U. will hold a picnic Tuesday noon at City park. A program will follow in the afternoon.

Y. W. C. A. ASKS REASON WHY WOMEN WORK; HOW THEY RELAX

Mrs. Burdette Lewis, left; Miss Mary Cady, right above, and Miss Rhoda McCulloch, right below.

A significant sign of the times is that the national board of the Young Women's Christian Association is preparing a comprehensive questionnaire on work and recreation, inquiring into each individual expenditure of time and how it affects one's entire outlook health and opportunities. Why are you working? How do you use your leisure time? Is marriage work? And do you work for money or love of the job are some of the questions asked.

The women who are preparing this national questionnaire are Miss Rhoda McCulloch, Mrs. Burdette Lewis, chairman of industrial work department of the national Y. W. C. A., and Miss Mary Cady, secretary for the educational work department of research and method.

Women Realize Time Value. Women are beginning to see that they are just as responsible for the expenditure of their time as for the expenditure of their money. Signs are so plenty that the latest interest is breezing one's walking hours and for expenditure.

Working under the title "The Significance of Work in the Life of Woman," this questionnaire of the Y. W. C. A., which urges fresh and direct thinking upon the subject, is believed to be the first of its kind. It is hoped that all classes of girls and women from college students and wives and mothers to factory girls and high school girls, will be represented in its tabulated results.

Time is being recognized as an actual commodity by women today, said Miss McCulloch. She is chairman of the committee that is putting out the questionnaire. "To get at the actual attitude of women and girls today towards their work, why they are working at their particular type of work and what recreation means to them will be not only immensely helpful for our educational and recreational programs, but it will also start folk thinking along these lines, one of the real objects of the questionnaire. Work in the lives of most girls within the last few years has had too much of a mushroom growth to be analyzed. When Sally or Mary direct from high school or college takes up work it has been accepted unthinkingly. Yet with the easy acceptance of a job we fail to see the far-reaching effect of that work on Sally's or Mary's entire life opportunities and habits. They may neither be "sweated" at factory work nor studied as interesting data in fatigue. Yet they may be drifting from day to day with no real thought of their present life and its tendencies as they are living it."

AREN'T FORCING IDEAS. Miss McCulloch emphasized that there was no desire to force any ideas on the public. "There is no definite data to which to point for the claim that women prefer to work outside the home," she continued. "We don't actually know if there's anything but necessity in the minds of most girls toward their work. By getting actual personal ideas we are anxious to see if we can't build up a philosophy of work among girls."

That there is a tendency to think of gainful work only in terms of a pay-envelope return was touched upon. "The reason 'Is Marriage Work' is included as a question," she said, "is that many girls think of marriage as an escape from self-support or arbitrarily demand full cash return for housework after marriage. The standards on which we now base our daily efforts are intensely individual and personal."

Among the phases touched upon by the questionnaire is the social status of different types of work and its influence upon the choice of a job, particularly in small communities, and the problem of work after marriage, whether within or outside the home. Under "Why Are You Working?" come the following suggestive questions: "Necessity for earning a living, desire for self-expression or spending money, or the wish for something to do? Other typical queries cover the choice of a job, whether it was individual, purposeful, upon the advice of parents or teachers, lure of immediate wages, training or lack of it, limitations of the community or inability to leave home.

The questionnaire is to be sent out for discussion groups in most of the 1,151 Y. W. C. A. centers all over the country. Later the answers will be classified and used as a basis for any changes in the educational departments of the association, in which nearly 50,000 girls are attending classes in forty-five subjects from cooking and dressmaking to stenography and banking.

THE USE OF LEISURE. Not the least interesting subject on which it is hoped the questionnaire will throw much light is that of recreation and the favorite use of leisure.

"It doesn't make much difference how hard you work if only you spend your week ends right," was the quoted advice from a physician which struck the consensus of opinion. "The less we have of leisure the more important it is that we know how to use it." One of the most difficult things in the world for the average woman of today to learn, declared another, when "her day's work is over, is to escape from a sense of duty."

FICKLE WEATHER DISAPPOINTMENT FOR HOSTESSES

Anticipated Heated Period During Past Week Not Realized—Delightful Conditions Greeted by Inactivity
—Resume of Lima Social Events

QUITE a few prospective hostesses were very much disappointed the past week. They had expected the weather to be too hot to even think about entertaining and accordingly had abandoned all thoughts of arranging parties and apparently lost all interest in them. Then, instead of days of intense heat, when all are listless, changeable and fickle, nature bestowed upon this section perfectly delightful days. Even the most exacting could not complain.

Society slept on and took little advantage of these days. With the exception of a few affairs, the social realm again has experienced another of its periods of quietude.

Two interesting guests in the city, Mrs. Harold Seymour, Tenafly, N. Y., and Miss Virginia Deaderick, Chicago, house guests of Miss Mary K. Roby, were complimented at several informal yet pretty gatherings during the past week. Several weddings were solemnized. Among these was the marriage of Miss Ada Jeanette Loach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Loach, and Ferris Wellman Myrde, Deshler, Ohio. The ceremony took place Sunday morning at 8 o'clock, the Rev. Webster Spayde officiating. Mr. Myrde and his bride will make their future home in Deshler, where Mr. Myrde is principal of the high school. The marriage of Miss Gladys Driver and E. W. Ramek, Roann, Ind., was celebrated Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the home of the officiating minister, the Rev. Samuel Driver.

In compliment to Mrs. C. C. Welgel and Mrs. R. Walters, who left for their future homes in Detroit, Saturday, Mrs. A. Daniels, Mrs. L. C. Bogart and Mrs. C. E. Umbaugh entertained with every enjoyable evening of bridge Wednesday. Mrs. Daniels held high score and the hostesses were presented dainty gifts. A delicious three course luncheon was later served, centerpieces of daisies graced the table.

Covers were laid for Mrs. H. Helmer, Mrs. F. Thirkfield, Mrs. B. Egan, Saginaw, Mich., Mrs. Welgel, Mrs. Walters and the hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Williams, Jr., S. Cole-st, and Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Seals and son Manley, W. Market-st, are enjoying an outing at Ruggie's Beach. Mr. Williams, Mr. Seals and Manley Seals will return Monday while Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Seals will spend a week in Cleveland and at Cedar Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibson Dildine and daughter, Miss Martha and son, Gibson, W. High-st, and Miss Ruth Rakestraw are spending the week at Orchard Island.

Class No. 4 of the First Christian church met with Mrs. Clarence Eustish, Friday afternoon. In a clever contest, Mrs. A. Whelpley was successful. At the conclusion of the pleasant afternoon the class adjourned to meet in September with Mrs. Fred Turner, at which time nomination of officers will take place.

Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Scoville and son, George, former residents of this city, Detroit, are spending the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Ross Mullen, N. Collett-st, and Mr. and Mrs. Klor L. Parent, N. Collett-st.

Mrs. Earl Thomas, who has been the guest of her father, T. F. Clark, N. Cole-st, will visit in Toledo for several days before returning to her home in Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin L. Allen and daughter, Mary-Elizabeth, and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Crown are home from Klinger Lake, Mich., where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Orwig at their summer home.

Miss Josephine Garretson, S. McDonald-st, is the guest of Mrs. Fred

Among the numerous delightful features of this frock of navy polart (twill) are two which mark it as a distinctive creation of the Fall of 1921.—its unique trimming of henna wool embroidery which is most formal in its straight lines and points, and the overskirt which flares in graceful manner.

The girdle is joined in front and loops in the back,—the waist long and close fitting, is made attractive by a vestee of ecru Venise lace.

Its collar is coat style and gives it a delightful tailored effect. Sleeves are three-quarter length and are embroidered with henna in points.

A new and decidedly attractive model. Price $45.00.

BELIEVES ILLNESS IMAGINARY

Hubband is Satisfied His Wife Is Not Ill, She Only Thinks She Is

Dear Miss Smart:

I HAVE a very dear, sweet wife and I love her dearly, but there is one thing she does to which I seriously object. She insists upon being ill every morning and then when I get up, complaining of not feeling well. If she were really sick I would not mind, but I am certain this is not the case. I think it is simply nothing more than imagination. As there are things which you could suggest that I might say to her and insist upon her doing. I don't want to hurt her feelings or make her feel badly but I would like to have her get out of this habit. MR. W. H. P.

YES, indeed, I agree with you that half of our ailments are nothing more than the results of these busy imaginations of ours. We are continually talking about our troubles and, of course, ours always happen to be just a little worse than that of the other person. The best plan is to forget all about our bodily weakness and condition and to refuse to listen to others' complaints. No one enjoys hearing another complain. Instead of criticizing the body always, we should praise it. Think how it goes on every day, altho it is usually overfed or underfed, neglected or weakened in various ways.

A wise person is one who knows how to rest—of course not to rest all the time, however. To rest successfully and properly is a powerful thing. Rest is relaxing the muscles and nerves. Everyone has heard the old saying, "Early to bed, early to rise, makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise." It is well for everyone to arise early in the morning, especially during the summer months. The early morning air is wonderful and invigorating and should make everyone forget their ailments. Each morning on arising and also each night before retiring it is an excellent thing to devote from three to five minutes in exercise. There are many exercises which are simple and yet are splendid in developing, healing and energizing the body. A cold plunge is excellent in the morning and helps greatly in keeping the body in a good, healthy condition. Also a cup of hot water, to which has been added a little salt, is very good thing to take each morning on rising. It is well to eat only a limited amount of fat, pastry, confection, or starchy foods, but plenty of vegetables, rye bread and graham. Walking is one of the finest ways to build up the body and make it strong. A certain portion of the day should be given to walking. It is well for us all to set our minds on what we want to be and then sincerely and honestly work for it.

You see I have been very careful to avoid telling you just what you should tell your wife. Not being acquainted with her, I am not certain in what spirit she might accept any suggestions. Therefore I shall just leave to your judgment what you think best to suggest.

Dear Miss Smart:

A young man made an engagement with me recently, but failed to keep it. I could really overlook it, but it did make me very provoked. At the time I thought I would advise me to say to him the next time I see him and how shall I act?

MOLLY

When you see the young man, treat him as usual. It may be that he was very busy or preoccupied. However, if he fails to apologize for his failure to keep his appointment, courteously and politely refuse his next invitation. Perhaps that will make him realize that he should either keep his engagements or have a proper excuse when he breaks them and be man enough to ask to be pardoned.

MABELLE MARIE

Would you please tell me if a party in England receiving a package would have to pay for it? I have a package that I have sent as a gift but not marked as such.

If the package is marked as a gift, there would be no duty to be paid, otherwise a duty is required.

Black Silk Crepe

WITH very little trimming, but with a beauty and sweep of line that bespeaks master designing, come the new autumn dresses. One finds them in Canton crepe, Roshanaro, crepe de chine, and Elizabeth crepe and nearly always in Black with now and then a model in navy blue.

Note the clever cape effect of the dress in the sketch. When one wishes, this same cape may be fastened about the waist in chic tunic fashion—and presto!—Madam has an entirely different looking frock. The only trimming is the picot edging. Scores of clever styles are here.

About Prices

Are they going up or down—is it advisable to buy now and save the large August reductions—or can one put off buying and realize even greater reductions in mid-season?

To those who are in a perplexity as to the wisdom of buying now—we submit these facts, which we as merchants, in close touch with conditions observe—

Plainly and bluntly the possibilities of greater reductions are practically nil—of course there may be sporadic price-cutting in cheap furs thrown out by nondescript makers—

But on fine furs of real quality and distinction, from furriers of reputation—there is not only no indication of lower prices—but higher markings seem imminent.

Therefore the logical time to buy furs is now. In addition to the established custom of furriers to give price concessions early in the season, you get the decided advantage as regards selected skins and better workmanship.

Security and Satisfaction are His, Wherever the Cadillac Owner May Tour

Before starting a tour across the continent, it is desirable to know something of the company which built your car, as well as the car itself.

In the very broadest sense of the word, the Cadillac is a sound and strongly established American institution.

There is probably not another plant in the world as advantageously equipped as the wonderful new works which the Cadillac Motor Car Company has just occupied.

The Cadillac has always been a model in manufacturing fitness and fineness, to which manufacturers of high grade cars the world over have gladly paid tribute.

The new Cadillac plant insures a degree of scientific exactitude, efficiency, and economy, beyond the fondest dreams of anything attained in the past.

Its far-flung system of sales and service puts friends within easy reach for the Cadillac tourist, wherever his fancy may carry him.

Back of every Cadillac sold is a solid history of eighteen years of unique experience, hammered and welded into a positive knowledge of how to build a car of the highest grade.

Back of every Cadillac is business responsibility—a splendid past, a solidly successful present, a sure, substantial and brilliant future.

The knowledge of these things brings a sense of certainty and satisfaction to the Cadillac owner second only to the certainty he feels that his car will do all he expects it to do, and more than he could hope any other would do.

LIMA MOVIE THEATRES PROVIDE PLEASING SUMMER ATTRACTIONS

PROGRAM INCLUDES FEATURES

DeMille Production Calendars
For the Week End at the Faurot Theatre

Sigma, Lyric and Majestic Present Screen Favorites in Latest Productions

(By ESTHER WAGNER.)

As the summer season progresses, local theatre managers are making emphatic efforts to secure for their patrons first-class programs of cinema attractions and the forthcoming week, as indicated by the directory, contains a host of splendid silver-sheet masterpieces. Comedy-drama has an important place on the weekly roster, for this form of entertainment has proven the most popular summer diversion among fans, although a good dramatic offering now and then never comes amiss.

The Faurot's bill-of-fare contains two features of importance, the first of which is "Beau Revel" in which Florence Vidor and Lloyd Hughes are starred. The excellency of the story, combined with the popularity of the two youthful stars, assures Faurot patrons an over-Sunday picture of charm and appeal.

William DeMille's "What Every Woman Knows" is the week-end offering at the Faurot. In this super-production, Miss Lois Wilson and Conrad Nagel are the leading lights, and give a beautiful characterization. The picture has been produced on the usual DeMille scale, which assures us lavish sets and magnificent interiors. The engagement of "What Every Woman Knows" is for four days, starting on Wednesday.

Miss Wanda Hawley, a Reelart star, is announced as the Sunday attraction at the Sigma theatre. The title of her new starring vehicle is "The House That Jazz Built," an adaptation of Sophie Kerr's "Sweetie Peach," which you read recently in the Saturday Evening Post. Forrest Stanley plays opposite Miss Hawley. The play is a comedy-drama of the first water and moves at a fast clip throughout.

Starting Thursday, the Sigma offers "His Brother's Keeper," a drama with a purpose, based on a psychic theme. Martha Mansfield heads the cast of distinguished players.

"Luring Lips" with Edith Roberts in the leading characterization is the Lyric's interesting contribution to the list of Sunday movies. The picture is one of intrigue, with a beautiful love theme running thru its scenes, and Miss Roberts, the dainty star, is seen at her best. The story is a remarkable drama of a woman's heart and is not only beautiful but one of the most interesting stories of the year.

"Luring Lips" will remain at the Lyric theatre until Thursday. A program of unusual proportions has been announced for the Majestic theatre, opening today with Bebe Daniels in "Oh Lady, Lady," a picturization of the famous musical comedy of the same name. Harrison Ford and Walter Heirs play opposite Miss Daniels.

The Rialto offers William S. Hart in "The Cradle of Courage" as its special feature attraction today and Monday.

The Lyric's Pictures

CLASSIFIED as a drama of action, the Universal feature "Luring Lips" with Edith Roberts in the leading role, at the Lyric, is the stirring story of how a beautiful woman's wits and wiles won back the man she loved and solved a great intrigue. The plot is handled in a novel manner and the dramatic ability displayed by Miss Roberts in her role will add many new admirers to the thousands who enjoy the well known star's features.

The situations in "Luring Lips" are human and logical. Adele Martin and her husband are on their honeymoon. Their life is one of bliss and contentment until the law arm of the law reaches out and snatches her husband from her. A shortage of $50,000 is discovered at the bank where the husband is employed.

Justice is misapplied and on the gossamer web of circumstantial evidence, Martin is given a term in prison. The point driven home in the ensuing events is the duty of a loyal wife in such a case. The law would be quick to grant a divorce and in the course of time another man of wealth and position edged his way into her life. Adele Martin was human and the one coveted treasure of her life was wealth and position. Now, what would the average woman do under like conditions? What have countless women already done under the same conditions?

Miss Roberts brings to her role all the fire and feeling of which she is capable. She has a charming personality and a dramatic quality to her acting which assures patrons of the Lyric a skillful and interesting interpretation of the thrilling story of "Luring Lips." King Baggett directed, and the supporting cast contains such favorites as Darrel Foss, Ramsey Wallace, William Welsh and others.

A comedy feature and late news reel complete the Lyric's interesting program. Opening a three-day engagement at the Lyric on Thursday, Blanche Sweet will be featured in "The Girl Montana," a western drama with Miss Sweet in a fitting role.

The Sigma's Pictures

SOPHIE KERR'S Saturday Evening Post story, "Sweetie Peach," forms the basis for Wanda Hawley's newest starring vehicle, "The House That Jazz Built."

Wanda Hawley in "The House That Jazz Built," at the Sigma theatre today.

Edith Roberts in "Luring Lips," at the Lyric theatre today.

one of the snappiest and most enjoyable comedy-dramas which Reelart's blonde star has yet given us. The story, as readers of Miss Kerr's story remember, deals with the increasing wealth and diminishing affections of a young couple who grow rich and unhappy.

Miss Hawley, as the bride, was delightful as a slim, energetic housemaker and an ideal pal. She cleaned house with vigor, baked noble looking pies and was thoroughly domestic and happy, until—

Friend husband began to make money, hand over fist, and their lives advanced accordingly. Servants now cleaned the house and expert chefs baked the pies, with the result that in a few years, the hitherto beautiful bride becomes a dull, sluggish, shapeless and altogether unattractive matron. Miss Hawley's makeup for these scenes must be seen to be appreciated, for not a vestige of her real beauty is apparent. Finally, the husband discovers that his love for his wife is dead, and he leaves forever.

Wife has a good cry, but one look into the mirror convinces her that her husband had ample reasons for leaving. So she goes into training, of Louis Joseph Vance's novel,

Aside from the remarkable work of the star and the really convincing story, the picture has unusual interest because of the fact that it is as directed by Penrhyn Stanlaws, the distinguished American artist. "The House That Jazz Built" boasts a capable cast, including the handsome Mr. Forrest Stanley, also Gladys George and Clarence Geldart. It is one of the most amusing pictures of the season, and picture lovers should make it a point to see it during its four day engagement at the Sigma theatre.

The week-end at the Sigma brings "His Brother's Keeper" with beautiful Martha Mansfield in the leading role.

The Faurot's Pictures DISCRIMINATING picturegoers will not miss either of the fine Paramount productions at the Faurot this week. Today, Monday and Tuesday they will be delighted with Thomas H. Ince's picturization of Louis Joseph Vance's novel,

"Beau Revel" and on Wednesday they will hail William DeMille's picturization of "What Every Woman Knows," one of the best comedies ever written by Sir James M. Barrie and one of the greatest star successes of beloved Maude Adams. Mr. Ince has made "Beau Revel" a thoroughly satisfying picture. The story is an intensely dramatic one and he has brought out every point with fine skill. He has also made use of some stunning settings, wonderful photography, and given the play the benefit of a highly capable cast. Florence Vidor, whom you recently saw in "Lying Lips," has the role of a cabaret dancer who doesn't resort to a daring costume to make her dance entertaining. In this dance, by the way, there is an artistic photographic effect that will delight you. Lewis Stone, who will be remembered in "The River's End," has the little role, and Lloyd Hughes that of his son. "Beau Revel" is essentially a picture for the adult, but even youth will find much in it, while the adult will appreciate that a human story is being untold. It is stage playing reproduced on the screen and made just as interesting, which is some accomplishment by Mr. Ince and his players.

With Lois Wilson doing the best work of her career in the Maude Adams role in the Barrie comedy, "What Every Woman Knows," you may well expect something far out of the ordinary in William DeMille's picturization of this charming and edifying play. Not only has DeMille preserved the delicious Barrie humor, but he has given it a setting that serves to emphasize its appeal and selected a cast that is a delight down to the most minor member. Conrad Nagel, Charles Ogle, Fred Huntley, Guy Oliver, Winter Hall, Lillian Tucker, Claire MacDowell and Robert Brower make an ensemble of artists that you seldom have the pleasure of seeing in one picture. But the Barrie comedy deserves such a cast, and deserves the exquisite care that DeMille has taken in every detail of such a worthy work. You are going to enjoy every minute of "What Every Woman Knows."

The Majestic's Pictures

THAT the cleverness and wit of a musical comedy can be transferred to the silver sheet is ably proven in "Oh Lady, Lady," the comedy-drama in which Bebe Daniels has scored such a great success, and which opens a two-day engagement today at the Majestic theatre. Harrison Ford and Walter Heirs appear opposite the star. Miss Daniels has never been seen to better advantage and is perfectly splendid as the gawdy country girl whose transformation into a famous chorus beauty brings innocent entanglement to the principals in the story. Naturally, the rotund Mr. Heirs is a delight as a serious-minded young man who fears that his one time country sweetheart is going to complicate things by bringing suit for breach of promise just as he is about to marry a very pretty and conventional young lady. And Harrison Ford, as the man Bebe finally marries, is likeable as usual. Clever, bubbling fun runs thru-out the whole picture and never a dull moment will be experienced. And Miss Daniels wears some striking clothes, all of which makes "Oh Lady, Lady" a picture to be seen and appreciated.

FAIR OPENING WEEKS AWAY

Grand Championship Cow to be Exhibited With Herd

DEPARTMENTS ARE FILLING

Sentiment Growing for New Grounds and Structures

With only two more weeks until the opening date of the Allen-co fair, indications are that it will be the greatest event of its kind ever held in the county. Secretary M. L. Mayer said Saturday. The fair opens August 23 and continues four days, until August 26. The five stock departments have never made such a splendid showing at this early date as they have this year," Mayer said.

"In the cattle department we will have a grand champion cow of the 1920 Columbus state fair exhibit, in a herd here, which in itself should be a great drawing card for the local show. Daily inquiries and entries in the various departments are being received and the owners of a number of the leading stock farms in Ohio and adjoining states have made arrangements to show at our fair, which speaks the best entries in the livestock departments we have ever had."

DISPLAY SPACE SNAPPED UP

A large number of stalls and pens have already been assigned, according to Mayer. All space in the Art hall has been taken, all refreshment and restaurant privileges have been sold, save the waffle privilege and a number of large tent locations have been contracted.

"The board is not only offering premiums on beef and pork, but beans as well," Mayer stated. "We will give $125 in cash prizes to the boys and girls in the various townships and special school districts for the best spellers and special prize of $25 by the First National Bank of Lima to the champion spellers of the county."

The fair management announces that the various Granges of the county have been offered special inducements by the Hoover-Roush company of this city, which will give $50 to the owners of the three best displays or winners of premiums. This will insure special effort on the part of Granges and assure splendid exhibits in the Grange department. Mayer states that in the speed department there are already 137 entries in the five stakes, representing all the first-class racing stables in the country, embracing 14 states and Canada.

GOOD PURSES OFFERED

"Our class races will be exceptionally good," Mayer assures "on account of the size of the purses offered and the liberal conditions. The boys' pony race for Tuesday has created considerable stir among the boys, as the purse is a liberal one—$30—and is confined to Shetland ponies only."

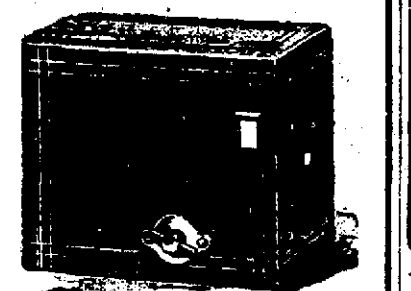

The short-ship circuit plan assures that Lima will have a wonderful array of the best racers the track affords. The horses for this circuit will begin their work in Lima.

Officers of the Allen-co Fair are anticipating good attendance and a successful show. In view of the fact that the lease on the present grounds expires with the 1922 fair, no steps have been taken for the addition of more buildings, until the future location of the fair is assured.

SENTIMENT FOR NEW GROUNDS

Sentiment for the purchase of grounds in a suitable location and the erection of permanent structures to take care of the needs of the Allen-co Fair is growing rapidly, the officers believe. It is expected that action of some sort, looking to the purchase of grounds and the building of a permanent plant for the fair will be started soon.

FAIRBANKS DIVIDES HONORS. WITH THREE PRETTY WOMEN

Douglas Fairbanks is dividing leading honors with three pretty women in "The Three Musketeers," his newest picture. The film will be released in the fall and it promises to be a record breaker according to all reports. There is every reason why it should. Costume players are taking well now and it is one of the best of costume plays. The swash-buckler here is beloved by everyone and nobody could play the part any better than Doug himself.

Then, too, Doug is just about as popular as D'Artagnan was supposed to have been and the combination of a beloved actor and a popular actor all in one will surely be irresistible.

Mary MacLaren will play Queen Anne of Austria, Barbara La Marr will play milady and Marguerite De La Motte will be Constance. This trio would make any picture worth while. "The Mark of Zorro" was one of Fairbanks' very best efforts and "The Three Musketeers" should prove even better for that dynamic actor.

WHAT THEY'RE DOING.

Garth Hughes has completed "Garments of Truth" and is ready to go ahead with a long list of pictures which have been selected for him. Among them are "Little Eva Ascends," "Barber John's Boy," "The Gay and Festive Claverhouse" and "Tommy Carteret."

"The Old Nest" is to be generally released September 11.

"The Cup of Life" is Madge Bellamy's first picture.

Bert Lytell appears as his own grandfather in "Junk."

Deris May has been signed as a star by Robertson Cole.

Louis J. Gasnier, director, first came into prominence when he screened "The Life of Christ."

Doris May says the greatest moment in her life was when she doubled for Mary Pickford in "The Little American."

Carmel Myers, who has completed her contract with Universal, has been signed up to play in serials by Vitagraph. Her first one will be "Breaking Thru."

Walter Hiers is the sturdy oak in Top to bottom, Barbara La Marr, Mary MacLaren and Marguerite De La Motte, as they appear in "The Three Musketeers" with Douglas Fairbanks.

Wanda Hawley's "Her Sturdy Oak."

Robert Bruce, scenic photographer and Hamish McLaurin, scenario writer, had a narrow escape from death when their canoe capsized in a whirlpool in the Willamette river.

Ross D. Whytock has written a series of two-reel dramas called "Tales of the Tenements."

ELECT THE LABOR TICKET

Organized labor presents the above named persons as the candidates for the five City Commissionerships of the City of Lima. They have not been selected because of their party affiliation but because they are representative of the interests of the Common People of Lima. All political parties are represented by the men selected by Lima Trades and Labor Council.

In selecting candidates particular attention was paid to fitness to perform the duties of the office. The first requisite is to be honest and fearless of the City in the administering the affairs of the City in the interests of the great majority of the people, and freedom from domination by The Chamber of Commerce or any similar organization.

M. B. Dickensheets and A. L. Wilker are machinists; V. H. Effinger and W. S. Barringer are electrical workers and Edwin Blank is a lawyer and labor organizer with 17 years active experience in the building trades. All these men are worthy of the support of any voter who desires honest and efficient government for Lima. Politicians have practically bankrupted our city and are clamoring to be continued in official control.

Real Store News From South-of-the-Square

With Lima's rapid growth and business development there is one business section of the city that has more than kept pace with the general up-building and improvement. We refer to that section south of the Public Square, and east and west from South Main street.

Many of the most progressive merchants in all Lima men who have fought to make the city what it is today and what it will be tomorrow, men who have always given the city the real impetus it deserves, men who have first, last and all the time given the people of the city a square deal in merchandising—these are the men whom you will find today, your service.

It is a noticeable fact that two mighty factors make worth the people's while trading in the "south-of-the-square district": One is unprecedented service and the other is lowness of price consistent with quality.

Get a pencil and paper right now. Write down the things that you must buy during the coming week, or possibly this fall. Is it a phonograph, phonograph records, a piano or some other musical instrument; is it furniture, possibly a piece for the bedroom, livingroom or diningroom, or possibly a complete suite to start housekeeping; is it lumber for home or some house improvement?

Do you need clothing for yourself or the kiddies, either by paying cash or on payments; won't you men need a new fall hat?

If you are going away, how about a traveling bag or new trunk?

What about those new lenses for your car, to comply with the new state requirements, or perhaps some auto tires and accessories?

Do you need house hardware, kitchen utensils, a washing machine, or anything else in the hardware line?

How about new shoes for yourself and the family; how about your laundry for this week?

Wouldn't a nice order of baked delicacies from a modern sanitary bakery go fine?

And doesn't the automobile need to have its cylinders re-ground?

Think it over. Jot everything down, then hustle right over to the "south-of-the-square business section" and take care of all your needs at once. You can secure all of these things right here within a very short walking distance.

Today, we call your attention to some of these facts; they are offered to you by these same merchants on the pages before you. Read their advertisements. There is something in each advertisement that will interest everyone, both from the standpoint of service and economy. We speak more properly, however, when we tell you that what the merchants here say is real, honest-to-goodness NEWS.

EFFICIENCY FIRST GOAL IN NAVY

Primary Objective Is Saving Of Time and Effort.

MEN FOR PREPAREDNESS

Officers Keep in Touch With All Political Activities.

BY CHARLES E. HUGHES
U. S. NEW MEXICO, FLAGSHIP PACIFIC FLEET, LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Cal. — In portions of the nation far removed from the seaboard, especially in the interior, the question often arises: "Why are so many millions of dollars necessary in constructing a modern battleship?"

To one who has had the opportunity of going over every foot of a great super dreadnaught like this New Mexico the answer is simple. The reason our great sea fighting units cost so much is because they are the last words in naval perfection at the time they are built. And to be such they had to be equipped with the best, as well as the most efficient and durable mechanisms. This has to be kept up to the highest possible standard and constantly renewed.

The correspondent was taken into a magazine of powder used to supply the energy of the fourteen-inch rifles, a little over fifty-eight feet long and of which the New Mexico carries twelve located in four turrets—two forward and two aft. On one of the walls of steel was a glass jar partly filled with powder, broken up into small sticks and appearing something like broken sticks of hardboard candy. Inside the cap of the jar was a piece of chemically treated paper. If it turned a certain color it showed the powder was deteriorating in strength.

The same method is used in various forms throughout the ship. Everywhere there is a check to see if anything is happening daily to possibly render the superdreadnaught inefficient.

EFFICIENCY IS PRIMARY
When even the smallest defect is found it is immediately remedied. At the same time there is a continual comparison being made of the performances of the ship's mechanical odds and ends, so that as new war vessels are laid down they can be rendered more efficient than craft of the type of only a year or two previous.

If there can be said to be one objective in the navy regarded more important than anything else it undoubtedly is efficiency with saving of time and effort. One has only to watch the loading of three fourteen-inch guns in one of the turrets to ascertain this. From the depths of the New Mexico a charge of 450 pounds of powder, contained in four sacks, is hoisted by electric elevators to the turret. Likewise a shell weighing 1,400 pounds and containing a charge of thirty-three pounds of dynamite, a deadly explosive, is moved up by another electric elevator. The gun is loaded and its missile sent spinning away twelve and a half miles with a velocity of 2,800 feet a second, all within a few seconds.

While the twelve fourteen-inch guns are being fired fourteen other guns of five inch calibre can be utilized for shorter range work or held in reserve until they can be effective. If there was an engagement in which aircraft were attacking, four three-inch anti-aircraft guns would bark. And if the occasion arose for their use, two submerged torpedo tubes would be available with their missiles of destruction.

THE LESSON OF PREPAREDNESS
Admiral Rodman, in an interview with the correspondent, stated recently before leaving the Pacific fleet that a good navy is good insurance. Other officers hold the same view. They feel that preparedness is a protection against war, as well as a means of defense in case of war.

Judging from the attitude of the New Mexico's officers, the United States is regarded in the navy as being friendly to every nation on earth with which is not in actual state of war. One hears no boasting about the superiority of the United States in this or that regard. The correspondent referred to Japan and its navy several times in his conversation with officers. Every one of them was able to answer each question promptly. They know exactly what Japan is doing; insofar as public records are available. That is their business as police officers of the sea.

The officers are also thoroughly acquainted with what the United States must do to keep pace with Japan. They know that supremacy in the Pacific Ocean is at stake. They know that the United States must provide plenty of money — not only to build fighting ships for the Pacific, but to maintain adequate naval bases and build big navy yards on the west coast. But they do not speak of it in a sense of alarm. They seem to feel that the United States was given a sufficiently powerful lesson in the World War concerning preparedness. They believe the war was really won for the Allies by the great wall of ships that kept Germany's fleet bottled up.

So they believe the people of the United States will keep their eyes first of all on America's big and efficient navy and see that it is not impoverished. Also that they will keep their eyes in future years on the west coast and take care if its needs.

AMERICAN WORKERS MUST CHOOSE BETWEEN LINCOLN AND LENINE SAYS PASTOR

COLUMBUS. — "The United States is the only country where every man has a reasonable chance to quadruple his income," said the Rev. A. E. Crowley, pastor of Hillcrest Baptist church here, sermonizing on conditions obtaining in the average American home.

"We need a genuine revival of appreciation of the benefits enjoyed by the average American family," continued the Rev. Mr. Crowley. "The average annual income of the working class in this country is four times that of other peoples of the world."

"This is about the only country where the wages of the worker are increasing and the interest of the rich decreasing. Here it is not true that the rich are growing richer and the poor poorer. The commoner now is enjoying benefits once had only by kings and queens, and the best things are being spread to reach all."

"The trouble is not with our country, its institutions or its government, but with the radical crowd that has been gripped with lawlessness. The workers of the United States must choose between Lincoln and Lenine. Those who halt between Lincoln and Lenine should take their respective countries as samples of their work. The place of the radicals is not here in Lincoln's land, but in Russia, land of Lenine. "Let us remember that the road to happiness is not by violence, but by industry, thrift, obedience to law and loyalty to the flag."

CURED AT LAST OF ECZEMA

After 20 years of increasing torture from Eczema, causing all my limbs to become swollen out of all proportion and trying all kinds of treatment, each resulting in failure, saw a case even worse than my own that Dr. George had cured and went at once to see him about my own case, who pronounced it curable. I went under his treatment at once, and to my astonishment, started to improve at once. My general health became restored and today am feeling better than I have for 20 years. I say this for the benefit of others that might be so afflicted. Oh, if only I had heard of such a doctor before. My address is Mrs. F. T. Roschuck, Mendon, Ohio.

This Dr. George I treated with is located at 722 N. West-St. Lima, Ohio. I don't know his phone number.

Own Your Own Ensilage Cutter

THERE'S SOMETHING MORE than just satisfaction in being equipped to fill your own silo—there's real money profit in it. It pays in dollars to own your own

PAPEC Ensilage Cutter

You can fill when your corn is just right—neither too green nor too ripe. You can begin feeding from a full silo—not one a fourth empty as a result of settling. The individually owned Papec can actually earn $100 to $200 clear profit per silo per year—that's the Papec Plan. And when you say "It's a Papec," you have said all that can be said for an ensilage cutter. Write today for catalog; it proves what we say here.

BRINGING UP FATHER—

SHORT SHAVINGS

An extremely polite passenger has been for a walk along the deck. When he came to his deck chair he found a very buxom woman in possession of it. He approached her timidly and said: "Excuse me, madam, but could you tell me—er—without—er—without getting up, whether you are sitting on my hat?"

The dear old lady entered the chemist's shop and looked doubtfully at the youthful assistant behind the counter.

"I suppose," she said, "you are a properly qualified chemist?"

"Yes, madam."

"You have passed all your examinations?"

"Certainly."

"You've never poisoned anyone by mistake?"

"Not to my knowledge."

She heaved a sigh of relief.

"Very well, then, you can give me a dime's worth of cough drops."

Mary came in from recess chewing gum for dear life. The teacher noticed her and said sharply:

"Mary, come here and put your gum in the waste basket."

Mary took the gum from her mouth, but did not put it in the waste basket. And again the teacher said: "Mary, I told you to put that gum in the waste basket."

This time Mary started to cry and replied:

"Miss J., I won't chew the gum any more, but I can't put it in the basket. It's my sister's gum and I have to give it back to her."

DEFINE EVICTION RIGHTS

BOSTON—The four justifiable causes for landlords to evict tenants were given by Chairman Eugene C. Hultman, of the Commission on Necessaries of Life, as follows:

1. When the owner and his family desire to occupy the premises.

2. When the tenant is in arrears in rent.

3. When the tenant is an objectionable character.

4. When the property is to be razed.

Hultman declared home ownership to be the only sound solution of the housing problem.

MOVING PICTURES TEACH SURGERY

German Doctors Use Films For Instruction

(By Frank E. Mason)

Berlin (International News Service)—Moving pictures are the latest aid to the teaching of surgery in the Berlin University. While the instructor is operating in the amphitheatre an enlarged picture of a similar operation is thrown on a screen above his head.

The invention of Dr. Alexander von Roeder, a professor in the Berlin University, has been approved by the Ministry of Education which is supporting the installation of six more cameras in the operating rooms of Berlin clinics.

The camera is on the end of a long piston, reminding one of the tube on which a hydraulic elevator rests, which runs up and down through the skylight and hangs directly over the operating table. The reels of film are in a room above the operating room and run down in light-proof canals beside the piston.

Four small motors raise and lower the camera, turn it from right to left and reverse and crank the film. They are controlled from a small movable stand near the operating table, on which is a control with removable sterile control switches. A pedal controls the cranking.

The light from four carbon lamps in the chamber above the operating room is reflected by mirrors through the skylight and focused directly on the field of operation. The heat from this light is said to be very good for the patient during the operation.

A number of prominent German surgeons have filmed the operations by which they have won their fame. They now wish to install similarly constructed operating rooms in other European capitals and in America and exchange the films for the benefit of universities and medical conventions.

SUPERSTITION WINS

COLUMBUS—Failing to pay all money, Walter Bell was sentenced to spend several days in the County Jail here.

Common Pleas Judge Kinkead ordered his release, but at the urgent request of the prisoner, he was permitted to remain in jail until the day after the expiration of his sentence.

Why? Judge Kinkead had ordered Bell's release on the 13th. Bell is a colored man.

OBJECTION SUSTAINED.

SELENA, Ark.—Never again will pretty Mrs. W. H. Holly listen to sweet nothings poured by ardent lovers into her shell-like ear.

Her husband objects to triangular love, he told his wife. He expressed his objections by shooting away his wife's ear. Third party escaped.

Good news for Milady: Hat prices are coming down, Lima buyer states.

They're coming down—the price of hats.

Such is the message brought from Gotham by Miss Marion Morey, who returned Saturday from a buying trip in the east.

"Fall hats are going to be very commonsense, this season," Miss Morey stated. "They are also going to be very good looking. The styles, while somewhat different from a year ago, have not altered materially."

But the chief bit of valuable information—particularly for the husband who foots the bills—is that prices have returned to a pre-war level. Chic hats, the most exclusive Parisian models, she states, are to be more reasonable this fall than for many years.

Black, purple and red will predominate in the color schemes, Miss Morey stated.

Restaurant-rites on Broadway are much more reasonable than a year ago, according to Miss Morey.
